NATION'S BEST FACILITIES

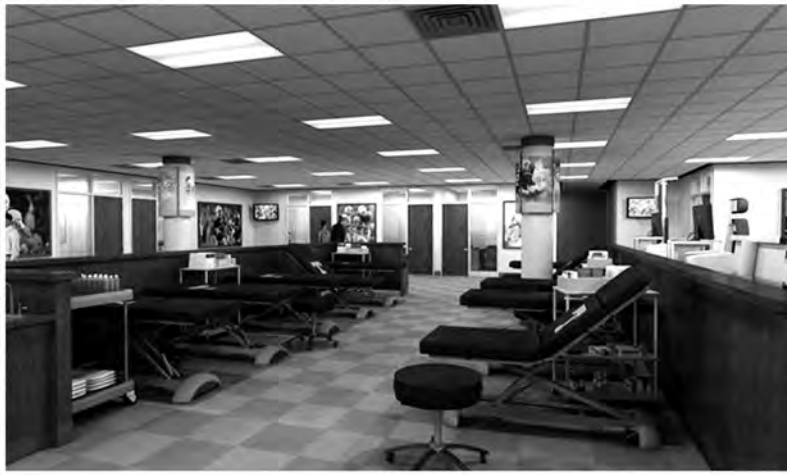
Construction is underway on Tennessee's brand-new four-story 145,000-square-foot football training center. The $50 million addition to the existing complex will be the prominent cornerstone of the UT athletics complex.

TENNESSEE FOOTBALL

- 22,000-square-foot weight room with two-story vaulted ceilings, accessible from both the indoor and outdoor practice fields

- Five cutting-edge treatment pools in a 4,500-square- foot hydrotherapy room, including a thermal plunge pool, polar plunge pool and a lane pool. The pools feature underwater cameras to monitor therapy progression

- 9,000-square-foot training room consisting of exam rooms, offices and state-of-the-art equipment for treatment and rehabilitation



- Brand new amphitheater- style team room with surround sound

- One of the largest film networks in all of sports

- Separate viewing room for NFL scouts

NATION'S BEST

FACILITIES

The Football Training Center will join with the Brenda Lawson Athletic Center and Neyland-Thompson Sports Center. It will provide athletes direct access to both the 120-yard indoor football field and Haslam Field, Tennessee's two outdoor football practice fields.

TENNESSEE FOOTBALL

The football training center also features a new 7,000-square-foot locker room that includes roomy, custom-built and ventilated lockers with electrical outlets for charging portable devices like cell phones, iPods and laptops.

The new Football Training Center will also include a spacious players' lounge and a dining hall.

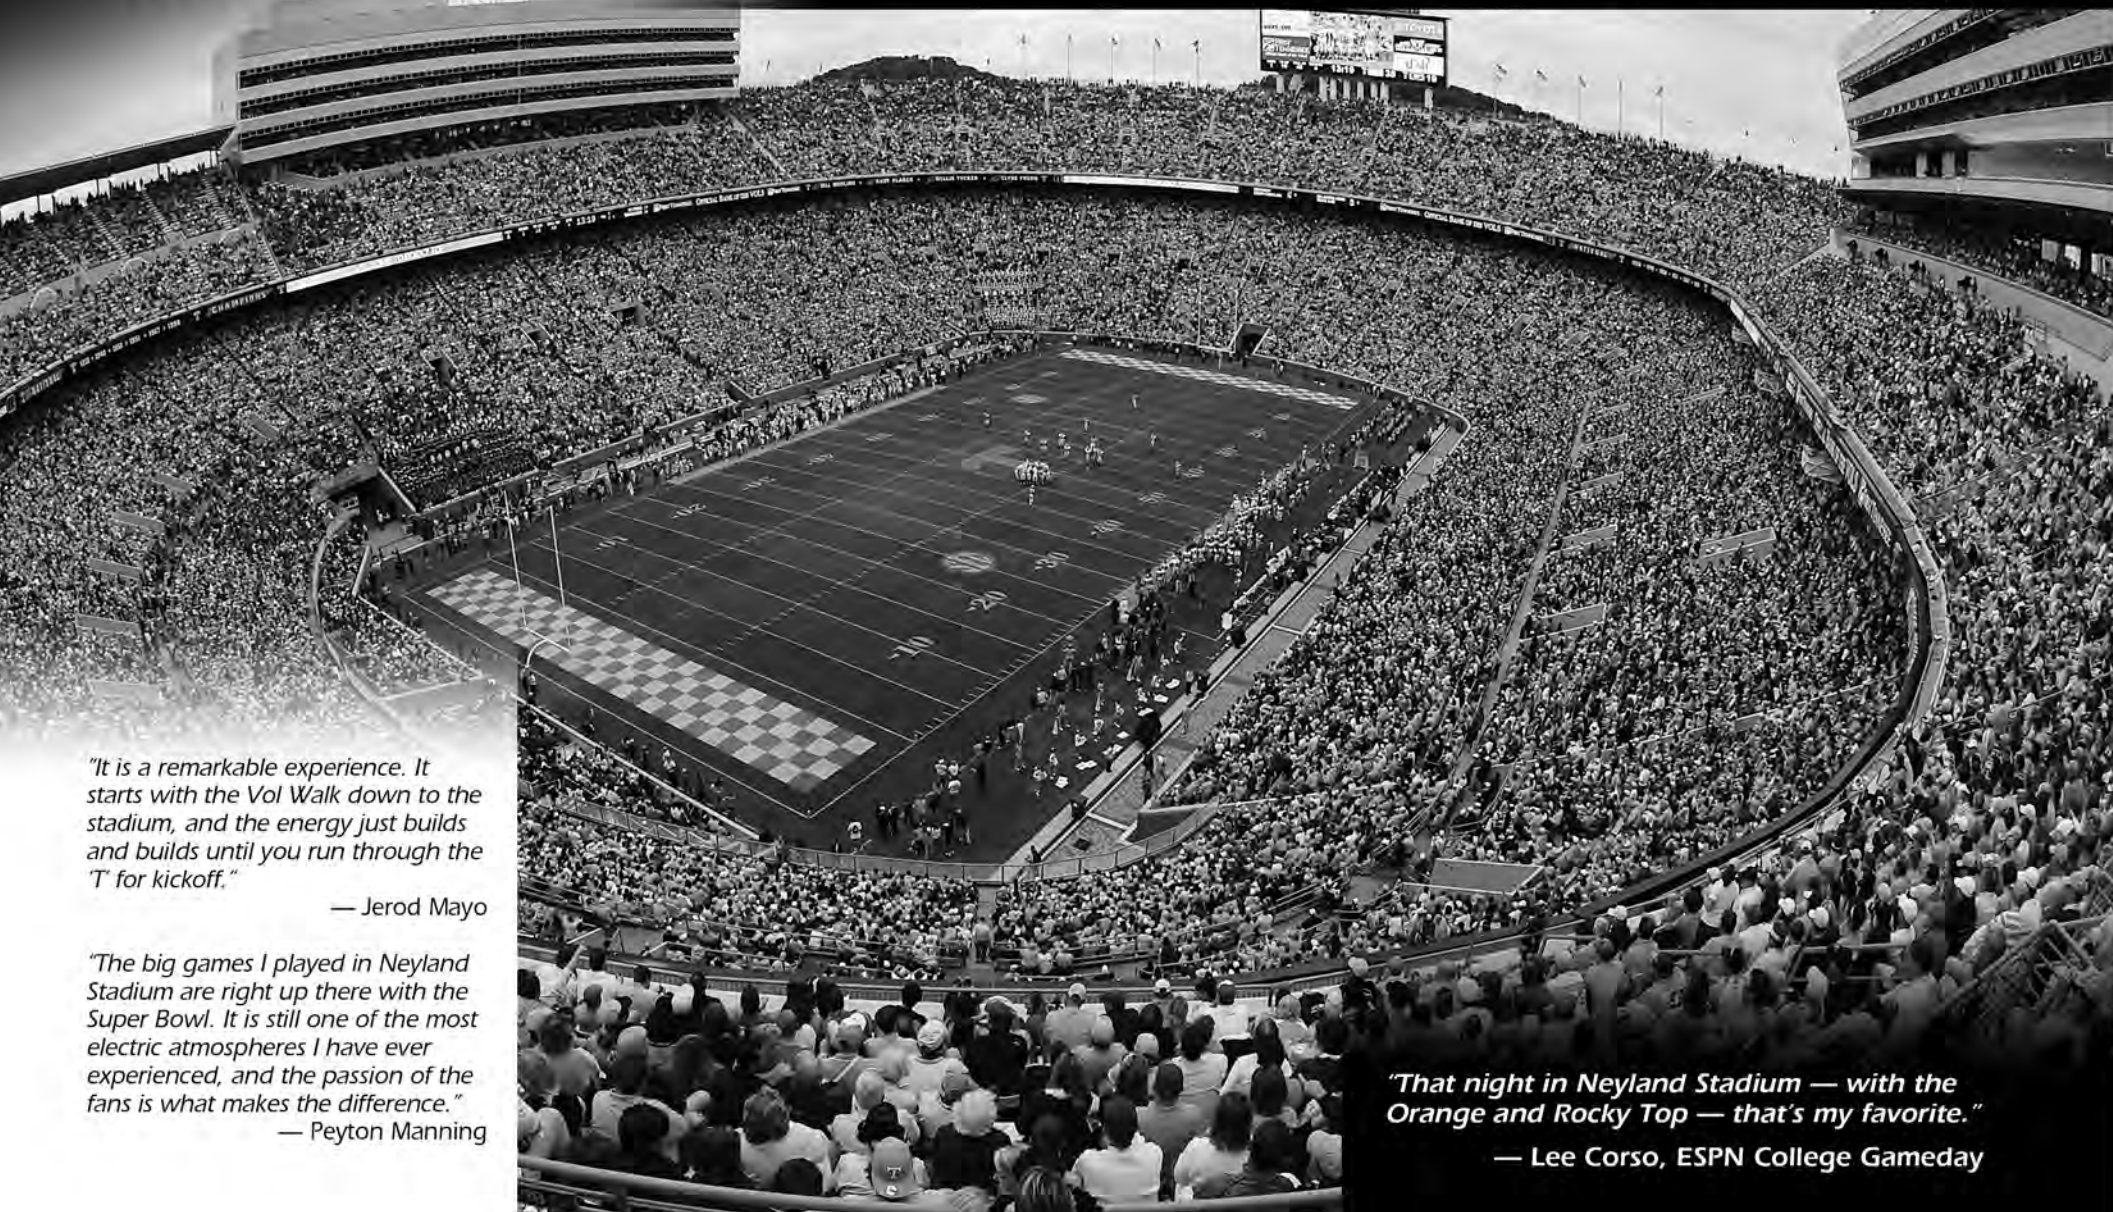
The building also features coaches' offices and position meeting rooms, as well as a state-of-the-art video delivery system for players and coaches.

NEYLAND STADIUM

"It's static noise. You can't hear anything. You go up and down the line — your wide receivers, your running backs, your tight ends — nobody can hear. Nobody."

— Nate Longshore, quarterback, California, 2006



"It is a remarkable experience. It starts with the Vol Walk down to the stadium, and the energy just builds and builds until you run through the 'T' for kickoff."

— Jerod Mayo

"The big games I played in Neyland Stadium are right up there with the Super Bowl. It is still one of the most electric atmospheres I have ever experienced, and the passion of the fans is what makes the difference."

— Peyton Manning

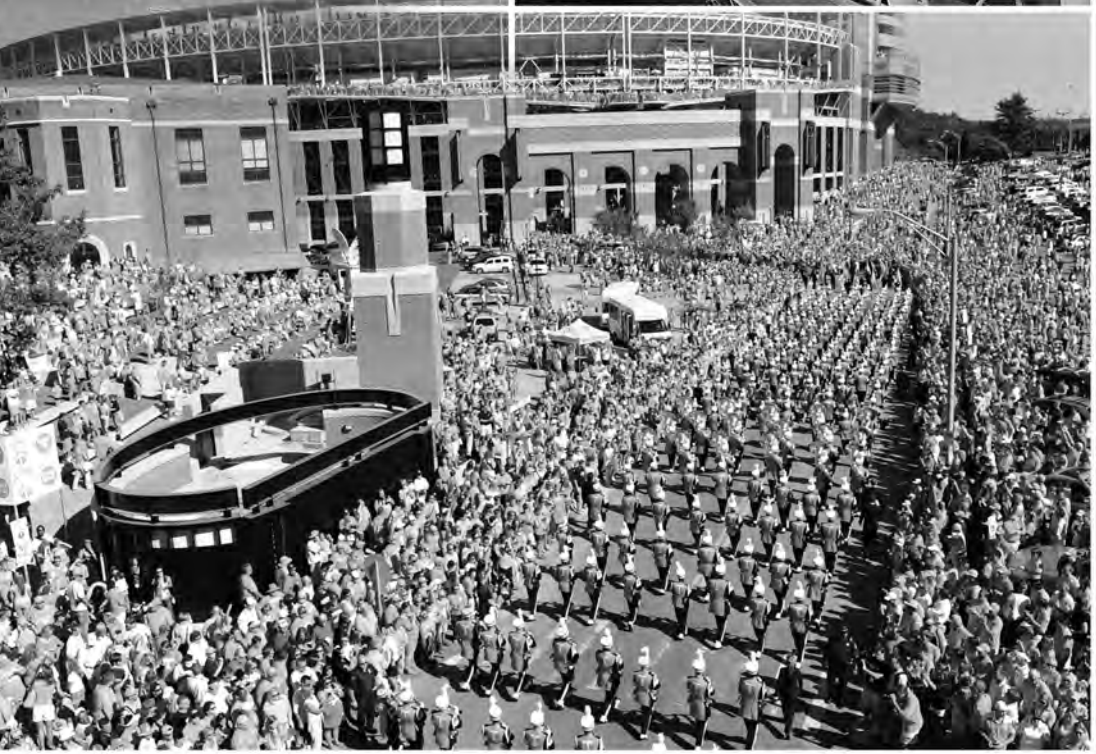
— Lee Corso, ESPN College Gameday

- Tennessee has led the SEC in attendance for 36 of the last 37 seasons.
- The Vols have ridden Neyland Stadium crowds to 36 undefeated home seasons.
- The Home of the Vols has ranked in the top six nationally for an amazing 35-consecutive seasons.
- Neyland Stadium is the second-winningest home field in all of college football. The Vols boast 432 wins in Neyland Stadium since it was built in 1921.

"I've been to LSU, Florida State and Texas and almost every other place that could be considered one of the toughest places to play. But we went down to Knoxville for a night game, and that Tennessee crowd was the most impressive that I have ever faced. Neyland Stadium was just electric."

— Bob Davie, ESPN Game Analyst



"That's the greatest stadium I've ever been in. I believe it's one of those places in college football where you say, 'It's one of the key benchmarks of what college football is supposed to be."

— John Robinson, legendary head coach, USC, UNLV

Neyland Stadium is currently in phase four of a multi-phase renovation that has prepared The Home of the Vols to host UT fans for years to come.

A TENNESSEE GAMEDAY

Gameday, 12 hours before kick-off:

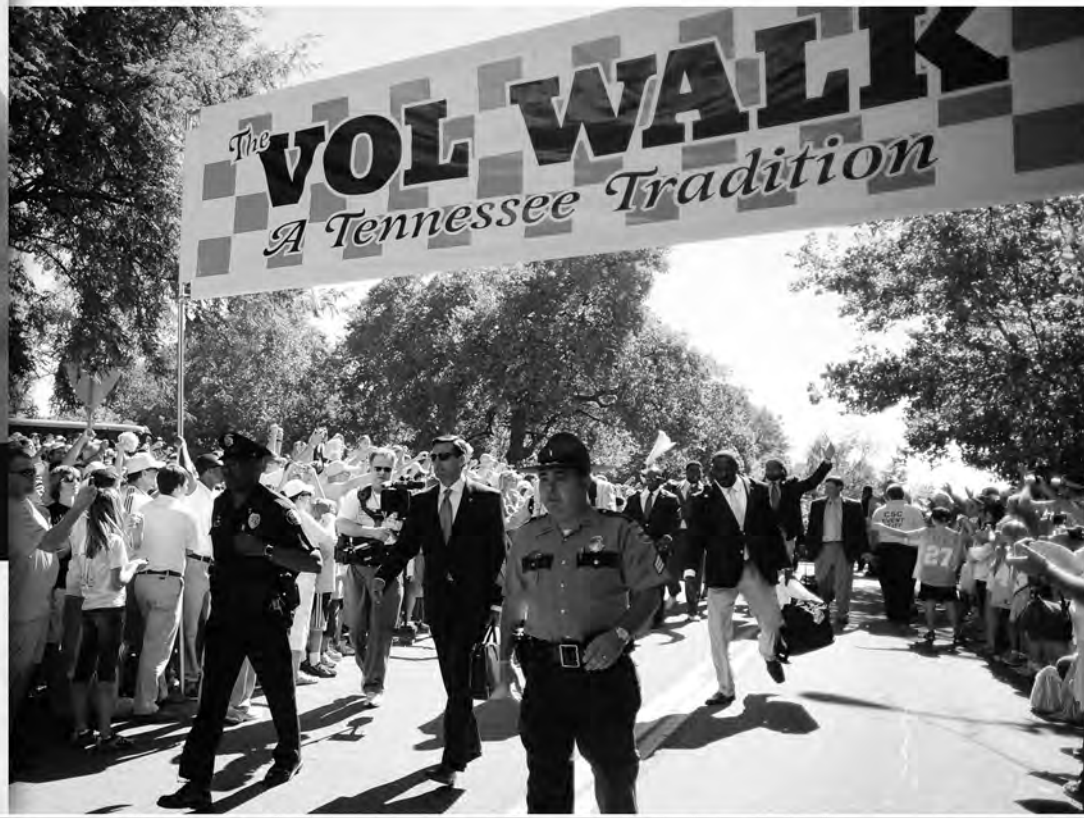
- The smell of charcoal signals the start of tailgating in the nation's greatest college gameday town.

Gameday, 2 hours before kick-off:

- Team walks down Peyton Manning Pass en route to Neyland Stadium, greeted, admired and encouraged by the thousands of supporters that line their path.

Gameday, 90 minutes before kick-off:

- The Pride of the Southland Marching Band "Salutes The Hill" before moving into the house that Neyland built.



Gameday, 90 minutes before kick-off:

- 100,000 men, women and children, from Mountain City to Memphis, make their way up to their seats, ready to support their Volunteers.
- Rocky Top echoes through Neyland Stadium for the first time on gameday — one of more than 40 times it will be played today.

Gameday, 15 minutes before kick-off:

- The Pride of the Southland Marching Band takes the field for a pregame tradition unrivaled in college football.

- The Vols exit the locker room, pledging their all for Tennessee today.

Gameday, one minute before kick-off:

- All spring and summer, five words sit on the tip of every Vol fan's tongue. Now they can say, " It's Football Time in Tennessee."

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Derek Dooley with his spring 2010 graduates

- Tennessee football has been among the leaders in the SEC each of the last seven seasons with a total of 168 athletes being named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll.

  20 Vols were named to the Academic Honor Roll in 2010 in 14 different academic disciplines.
- Eight football players earned their degrees in the spring of 2010: Todd Campbell, Terry Fair, Cody Pope, Nick Reveiz, Luke Stocker, Victor Thomas, LaMarcus Thompson, and Tyler Wolf. Two other Vols graduated in December 2010: Ben Martin and Chris Walker. Including spring 2010 graduates, a total of 11 graduates were on the Vols' 2010 active roster.
- Tennessee has eight players in program history named ESPN The Magazine Academic All-Americans.
- The William V. Campbell Award, referred to as the "Academic Heisman," has two UT athletes, Peyton Manning and Michael Munoz, on its all-time winners' list. The Vols are the only program in the nation to have two athletes win the award.
- The Thornton Athletics Student Life Center is a 33,000-square-foot state-of-the-art facility for student-athletes that offers academic counseling services, career development programs, student development programs, comprehensive tutoring programs, a writing lab, math lab, computer lab, and accommodations for students with special needs.
- The Champs/Life Skills Program provides student-athletes with resources for future work, workshops on personal development issues, resume building and interviewing along with community service opportunities.
- The Renewing Academic Commitment (RAC) Program provides opportunities for former student athletes to return to campus to achieve their goal of graduation.

THE BEST CONFERENCE IN AMERICA

- The SEC has won five consecutive national championships, seven BCS National Championships and 21 overall national titles. Since 2006, the SEC has an 8-2 (.800) overall record in BCS bowl games, which is more wins and a higher winning percentage than any other conference.
- During the past four seasons, the SEC has won 30 bowl games, more than any other conference. During the last two seasons, 20 SEC teams earned bowl bids, more than any other conference in the nation.
- The SEC drew 6.5 million fans to its games in 2009 — one million more than any other conference.
- The SEC averaged 76, 288 fans per game in 2009, which is the highest single- season average in NCAA history.
- The SEC's 381 all-time bowl appearances and 201 bowl wins are more than any other conference.
- The SEC had 49 players selected in the 2010 NFL Draft, more than any other conference. The SEC also leads the nation in athletes selected in the NFL Draft since 1990 with 788.

The SEC has the most extensive television package in the country, with nationally televised games on CBS and ESPN every week of the regular season.

Tennessee has been one of the SEC's top road teams since divisional play began in 1992. The Vols are 52-25 (.675) during that stretch.

Every year since the SEC expanded in 1992, the SEC has crowned its champion with Division I's first conference title game. Atlanta's Georgia Dome has played host to the game since 1994 and boasts 16 sellout crowds in 17 games played in the building. More than 1.3 million fans have witnessed the 19 total SEC Championship games in person.

The SEC is a sterling 7-0 in BCS national championship games since its inception in 1998 and the conference boasts eight national titles since the league expanded in 1992. The SEC is 15-6 overall in bowl games that now comprise the BCS.

- Three former Vols were among the league's best in 2010. Arian Foster (2009) led the NFL in rushing yards (1,616), Peyton Manning was second in passing yards (4,700) and Jerod Mayo led the league in tackles (175).
- At least one former Vol has played in 19 of the last 20 Super Bowls with a total of 26 playing in the big game since 2000. Five Vols played in the Super Bowl in 2010, which is tied for the most of any school.
- Six former Vols received invitations to the 2011 Pro Bowl: Eric Berry, Chad Clifton, Arian Foster, Peyton Manning, Jerod Mayo and Jason Witten. Clifton did not play due to his preparation for Super Bowl XLV with the Green Bay Packers. A total of 37 former Vols have earned 111 all-time invitations.
- 12 former Vols have been selected in the first round of the NFL Draft since 2000, while 59 UT players overall have been selected in that time frame.
- Tennessee is second in the SEC with 41 all-time first- round draft picks.
- Tennessee has had multiple first-round draft picks eight times in the history of the NFL Draft, including 2010.
- Former Vol Peyton Manning earned a record fourth NFL regular-season MVP award for the 2009 season.
- Super Bowl XLIV MVP Drew Brees played for Tennessee offensive coordinator Jim Chaney at Purdue from 1997-2000.
- Eric Berry became the sixth former Vol in the last five years to be selected in the first round of the NFL Draft when he was picked fifth overall by the Kansas City Chiefs in 2010.

Vols Enter 2011 Season Younger, More Experienced

Justin Hunter

With Returners at Key Positions, UT Squad Looks to Take Step Forward in Dooley's Second Year on The Hill

BY JOSH PATE
UTSports.com

By most accounts, second-year head coach Derek Dooley has his Tennessee Volunteers in better shape now than when he took over the team a year ago. Make no mistake, the Vols do lose some critical contributors on offense and defense from last year's resilient squad. Yet Dooley and company have a much deeper well from which to draw heading into the 2011 football season.

The superstar playmakers from last year have moved on in ultimate deep threat wide receiver Denarius Moore and his complement Gerald Jones, whose spectacular third-down catches were vital for Tennessee. Defensively, the Vols lose their premier leader and hard-hitter Nick Reveiz. Those guys no longer being a presence in the locker room and on the field will leave a huge hole to fill for the remaining 85 who inherit the honor of carrying the 'T' on the side of the helmet. Still, the best part about heading into the 2011 is that last season provided a glimpse of what could be.

Tennessee came out in Dooley's first season to a lowly 2-6 record after running the gauntlet of opponents in national champion contender Oregon and SEC contenders Florida and Alabama. Yet the Vols didn't fold. They rebounded with four consecutive victories and earned a berth in the Music City Bowl against a hard-nosed North Carolina team that faced many of the same challenges as the men in orange last season. The topsy-turvy season, of course, was summed up by the way the final minutes and two overtimes played out in Nashville: North Carolina 30, Tennessee 27.

The loss on a chilly December night stuck with the Vols. Each member of the orange team that came out of the locker room beneath the seats at LP Field vowed they would keep that feeling with them into the offseason, spring practice, and later into the fall camp just like Dooley asked of them.

"Every time that they want to lay in bed and not work in the offseason, they better think about how they feel, so I hope they bottle this feeling up," Dooley said after the bowl game loss. "I know I will."

So with that, spring practice didn't being with a light-hearted approach. The fun and excitement of popping pads and crashing helmets was replaced with a touch of hunger and a dash of revenge. And the Vols are in solid shape to turn their emotion into quality on-field performance this fall.

Tennessee returns seven starters on offense and six on defense. Offensively, the skill positions at wide receiver will depend heavily on youth and new faces, while the battery at center and quarterback, as well as the backfield, will be intact from last season. The offensive line, which was a season-long concern last year, is on the verge of reaping the benefits of youth and inexperience. Defensively, the secondary is intact. The concern, however, sits on the line and at linebacker, where the Vols must find five new starters to plug holes against the run and to force the pass rush with greater urgency. Special teams are, in a word, new, as Tennessee will have a fresh arsenal of legs kicking the ball and possibly returning kicks.

OFFENSE

Last season, the concern surrounded who would take over the open quarterback position and how Tauren Poole would respond to being the every-down back for the Volunteers. This season, neither is an issue.

Tyler Bray was inserted into the starting role prior to November and embraced the expectations with some flashy numbers and jaw-dropping throws that showed signs of brilliance. Bray saw action in nine games, but his impact came when he was handed the starter's role heading into the Memphis game. The freshman ended up with 1,849 yards and threw 18 touchdowns to 10 interceptions. He averaged 205 yards per game while throwing at a 55.8 percent clip.

Where Bray shined was with his accuracy in throwing the deep ball. His first start at Memphis resulted in a five-touchdown, 308-yard first-half performance – both setting UT single-half records. His benchmark came when he connected with fellow freshman Justin Hunter on an 80-yard rocket early in the game against Mississippi. Bray went on to throw two more touchdowns in the 52-14 drubbing of the Rebels. Bray, of course, went on to lead the Vols past Vanderbilt and Kentucky to finish the regular season undefeated as the starting quarterback and bring the squad back up to a 6-6 record to become bowl eligible.

The tall California kid won't be standing alone as Tennessee lists five other quarterbacks in the shadows, and that includes a well-experienced Matt Simms. As a junior last year, Simms started the Vols' first eight games and threw for 1,460 yards and eight touchdowns. His toughness in the pocket set the standard for Bray's late-season explosion. Bray, however, will be handed the ball once again for his sophomore season with significant game experience and signs that his game management matured as last year's campaign closed. And he will have solid weaponry around him in the backfield and on the offensive line.

Poole returns for his senior season coming off a breakout year in 2010. He was the Vols' workhorse on the ground, rushing for 1,034 yards, averaging 79.5 yards per game, and scoring 11 rushing touchdowns. His 5-yard per carry average and tie for the SEC lead with six 100-yard rushing games were noteworthy considering the youthfulness and adjustments along the offensive line last season.

What's also noteworthy about Poole is that he's just now getting things going. Prior to last year, he had rushed for 171 yards total in his UT career. The fact that he exploded for more than 1,000 when given the opportunity to carry the football and while an entire offensive line was in the gelling mode places some greater expectations on the Georgia native. The scary part for opponents: Poole likes a challenge.

Rajion Neal showed signs of brilliance last year, too, picking up the load when Poole was grabbing a breather. The sophomore should see an increased role in the offense as the rest of the backfield is young but talented.

Channing Fugate came on strong at fullback as last season progressed, and eventually took on the starting role in his freshman campaign. The sophomore solidified himself as a staple in the Tennessee backfield thanks to his natural blocking skills and occasional threat in the passing game. Fugate caught just two balls last year, but made the most of them with a 10.5-yard average per catch. Junior Ben Bartholomew returns to this position for depth after spending last year at tight end. Bartholomew saw action in the fullback spot in 2008 and 2009.

As the leader of the backfield, Poole's task to cut through holes in the offensive line may be lightened this year with an offensive line that nearly returns intact. As burdensome as it was last year to fill gaps in the trenches, the payoff may come this year as four of the five positions have a returning starter back in place.

Only outgoing senior Jarrod Shaw leaves his position at left guard, and sophomore JerQuari Schofield immediately becomes a top candidate to fill the role considering his experience. Pushing Schofield at that position is a true freshman, midterm enrollee Marcus Jackson. Jackson showed promising signs during spring drills and enters the summer bracketed with Schofield.

Aside from that change, it's a solid package on the line. A trio of freshmen got their feet wet early last year in James Stone, Zach Fulton and Ja'Wuan James. Stone moved over to center late last year and fared well in his first season at Tennessee, so the sophomore will be ready to snap or be available to fill roles elsewhere on the line. Fulton stepped in at right guard last year, while James solidified right tackle. Dallas Thomas is just a junior at left tackle but is the elder statesman of this group.

Bookending the offensive line will be the challenge on offense. Gone are pass catchers Denarius Moore and Gerald Jones, as well as tight end Luke Stocker. They were Bray's go-to weapons. Moore provided the deep-ball threat, while Jones was Mr. Third Down and Stocker was clutch across the middle. Together, the trio ranked 1, 2 and 3 on Tennessee's receiving list last year.

The Vols now turn to a pair of sophomore receivers with speed. Two-sport athlete Justin Hunter plans to fill Moore's role as the deep man with his blazing speed from track also applying to the football field. The sprinter caught 16 passes for 415 yards in 2010. The eye-poppers, however, are his 25.9-yard-per-catch average that displays his passion for the deep ball, and his seven touchdowns, which ranked second on the team last year.

Tyler Bray

Herman Lathers

Ju'Wuan James

Complementing Hunter will be Da'Rick Rogers, who caught 11 passes for 167 yards and a pair of touchdowns as a freshman last year. His 6-foot-3, 215-pound frame is the big target Bray needs for go-to yardage late in drives.

Zach Rogers is the veteran of the receiving corps despite being just a junior. Rogers caught 14 passes last year for 207 yards and a touchdown. He could see loads of action this year, providing sure hands and breakaway speed; his 72-yard catch-and-run touchdown against UAB last year proved as much. Sprinkled into the receiving corps are sophomore big man Matt Milton at 6-5, 220, and a pair of freshmen pass-catchers the Vols signed.

Throw the tight end position into the mix also as Tennessee will be searching for Stocker's replacement as a critical blocker and catcher. Junior Mychal Rivera returns with playing experience, while the Vols are also likely to have the services of early enrollee Brendan Downs and Bartholomew.

DEFENSE

The Vols tentatively welcome back all of their secondary from a year ago, each of whom still have multiple seasons remaining on Rocky Top. Conversely, Tennessee will be trying to fill positions both on the defensive front and at linebacker, two areas that will prove critical as to how successful this season's defense can be.

First up is defensive coordinator Justin Wilcox's biggest challenge to date. The Vols lost three of their four starting defensive linemen, and two of their three linebackers. The positive to that is there is experience and talent that has been waiting for this chance, perhaps more so at this position than anywhere else on the field.

On the line, Malik Jackson returns for his second and final season at Tennessee after transferring from Southern California. Jackson was a monster from the tackle position, bursting through for five sacks and 11 tackles for loss in his first year of Southeastern Conference play. His 48 total tackles ranked sixth on the team and most among defensive linemen. Daniel Hood, a redshirt sophomore, moved over from the offensive line and leaves the spring as starting nose tackle.

Montori Hughes (17 tackles in 2010) and Joseph Ayres (13 tackles) are back, as is Corey Miller (13 tackles), who also saw plenty of action last season and could push for a spot at either tackle or end.

Austin Johnson

Tennessee will be searching to fill the void left by Chris Walker's departure at end, but Jacques Smith showed signs of pass-rush ability last year with five TFLs and a pair of sacks. Junior Willie Bohannon has the experience, too, and Marlon Walls was moved to end after an injury kept him sidelined last year.

While uncertainty is part of the defensive line equation for this season, anticipation would describe how the linebacker positions will shake out. Clearly, the Vols will miss big-hitters Nick Reveiz and LaMarcus Thompson in addition to the locker room leadership brought forth by the veterans. Reveiz led Tennessee with 108 tackles last year from middle linebacker, 33 more than any other Volunteer. Thompson ranked fourth on that list with 60 tackles at his strong linebacker spot. Yet don't overlook last year's weak-side linebacker, Herman Lathers, who heads into his junior season prepared to be a leader of the defense. As a sophomore, Lathers finished second to Reveiz on the tackles list, and he collected 2½ sacks and 4½ TFLs. His field experience will be critical for a unit that will influence Tennessee's defensive success. Lathers could move to a different spot among the three linebacker positions, depending on how his supporting cast progresses.

Austin Johnson had a rock-solid performance last season as a junior, his first year at linebacker after moving over from fullback. Johnson finished with 44 tackles, 3½ TFLs and an interception. Daryl Vereen appears poised to make the most of his senior season at the strong-side position. A host of Volunteers could fill in the supporting cast with names like Greg King, John Propst, Raiques Crump and Nigel Mitchell-Thornton all seeing significant action last season.

The plus side of Wilcox's 2011 assignment is in the secondary. Everyone who started last season in the defensive secondary – Marsalis Teague, Prentiss Waggner, Brent Brewer and Janzen Jackson – are scheduled to be back on the field. The lone concern is Jackson, who intercepted a team-high five passes last year, collected 114 return yards, broke up six passes, and collected 69 tackles to rank third on the team. Jackson left the team in February citing personal reasons and his status for the fall remains undetermined.

Still, the secondary is Tennessee's ace defensively and is mostly comprised of freshmen, sophomores and juniors. Waggner, one of 42 nominees for the Ronnie Lott IMPACT Award given annually to the nation's top defensive player, was all over the field in 2010, tying Jackson with five interceptions and also collecting four pass breakups. As a sophomore, he logged 57 tackles to rank fifth on the team. Teague returns for his junior season after collecting 46 tackles last season and leading the team with eight pass breakups. Eric Gordon is another hard-hitting defender who proved active last season as a freshman. Now a sophomore, Gordon will look to challenge the status quo of the starting lineup.

Knoxville senior Anthony Anderson is pushing for a starting position as well, and adds punt-return capabilities to his resume. Art Evans also returns to the team after participating in seven games last year and collecting 21 tackles. Add to that the fact that Tennessee signed seven defensive backs in its recruiting class, including mid-term enrollee Justin Coleman, who had a solid spring, and the Vols should be shaping up nicely for the future.

SPECIAL TEAMS

A clean slate. That's what Tennessee's specialists look like considering placekicker Daniel Lincoln and punter Chad Cunningham have both exhausted their four seasons of eligibility on The Hill. Enter the new blood.

Michael Palardy comes back for his sophomore season after seeing plenty of action last year kicking field goals, punting and performing kickoff duties. Palardy was 5-of-7 on field goals last season and made 13 PATs. The two kicks he missed were his two longest, which were from more than 40 yards.

He was a perfect 5-of-5 from inside the 40. Palardy also punted the ball four times with a 39.2-yard average on his kicks, booming one 51 yards. His specialty, however, became kicking off. He averaged 61 yards on his kicks after handling 45 of the Vols' 68 kickoffs.

Matt Darr will enter the scene this season, too. Darr redshirted last year after coming to Tennessee as the nation's No. 1 punting prospect by some experts. He is expected to assume the punting job for the Vols, while Palardy will strictly concentrate on kicking field goals. As for the kickoff role, it may go to the best performer depending on spring and fall camps.

One issue Tennessee will seek to address early will be in the return game. Tennessee used five different players to return punts last year with nobody truly taking the role as their own. Anthony Anderson is currently slated as the starting punt returner, while Da'Rick Rogers, who averaged 24.8 yards per return in 2010, will handle kickoff return duties.

QUARTERBACK

>> Lettermen Returning (2):

Tyler Bray	So.	1L
Matt Simms	Sr.	1L

>> Lettermen Lost (0)

What was unsettled a year ago this time is now concrete. Tyler Bray is the starting quarterback for the University of Tennessee. The tall passer heads into his sophomore season locked into the position, which was not the case in his freshman year.

Bray inherited the starting position at Memphis and went 4-1 in that role, including an undefeated November and a berth in the Music City Bowl.

His ability to connect deep downfield with seasoned targets Denarius Moore and Gerald Jones helped, but he also developed a quick rapport with fellow freshmen Justin Hunter and Da'Rick Rogers – his projected top two targets in 2011.

The Vols' 6-foot-6, 210-pound quarterback comes into Year 2 with some bright numbers. Last year, he threw for 1,849 yards and 18 touchdowns to just 10 interceptions. While he will throw to a new tandem of starting receivers, his protection on the offensive line will improve because of considerable experience gained in 2010.

Backing up Bray will be senior Matt Simms, who started Tennessee's first eight games last year. Known for his toughness and leadership qualities, Simms will be relied upon for guidance on a team that is still young and still improving.

A deep group of backups wait in the wings for Tennessee, led by freshman mid-term enrollee Justin Worley and redshirt freshman Nash Nance. Other quarterbacks on the roster include sophomore Doak Raulston and redshirt freshmen Myles McKee.

TAILBACK

>> Lettermen Returning (2):

Rajion Neal	So.	1L
Tauren Poole	Sr.	3L

>> Lettermen Lost (1):

David Oku	So.	2L

The offensive battery is shored up by Tennessee's only senior starter on offense, running back Tauren Poole, whose experience will pay dividends for the Vols' ground attack in 2011.

The 5-foot-10, 210-pound Poole enters his senior season at UT after a career year in 2010. As a freshman, Poole ran for 86 yards. As a sophomore, Poole ran for 85 yards.

Last year, however, he took full advantage of his chance to start, carrying the ball 204 times for 1,034 yards as a junior, including six 100-yard games, tying Heisman Trophy winner Cam Newton for the most in the conference last year. Poole averaged 5.1 yards per carry and collected 11 touchdowns.

This spring gave the coaches a chance to see who may step up to relieve Poole, as the senior is cemented as the Vols' workhorse after earning honorable mention AP All-SEC accolades.

Behind Poole will be 5-11, 205-pound sophomore Rajion Neal, who turned heads in his first year backing up the Vols' starter.

Neal rushed for 197 yards as a freshman, but his explosiveness resulted in big plays both as a runner and a receiver, including a 58-yard reception at Georgia that set up a Tennessee touchdown. Neal is currently listed as the Vols' backup in the depth chart.

FULLBACK

>> Lettermen Returning (2):

Ben Bartholomew	Jr.	2L
Channing Fugate	So.	1L

>> Lettermen Lost (1):

Kevin Cooper	Sr.	3L

Blocking from the backfield will be critical for Tennessee's run game to be strong in 2011, and the Vols received a boost down the stretch from 6-foot-1, 245-pound Channing Fugate last fall. As a true freshman, Fugate played in all 13 games, including starts in the last five games of the season.

Fugate returns for his sophomore season and is listed as the starter at fullback, one of eight sophomores currently listed as an offensive starter.

Junior Ben Bartholomew is listed as the backup to Fugate at fullback, although Bartholomew will also spend time at tight end. Still, the 6-2, 251 bruiser will be another big body in the backfield for the Vols to rely upon as the tough season unfolds. Redshirt freshman Austin Bolen is also listed at fullback.

WIDE RECEIVER

Cory Eichholtz	Jr.	1L
Justin Hunter	So.	1L
Da'Rick Rogers	So.	1L
Zach Rogers	Jr.	2L

>> Lettermen Lost (2):

Gerald Jones	Sr.	4L
Denarius Moore	Sr.	4L

Very few schools can lose two senior wide receivers and still have cause for optimism in the following season's passing game, but Tennessee is in that position heading into 2011.

The Vols lose Denarius Moore and Gerald Jones from last year's squad – two starters, two seniors, and the two best-performing receivers. Moore totaled 981 yards and caught nine touchdowns, while Jones caught four touchdowns and collected 596 yards in establishing himself as the go-to in third down situations.

Enter Justin Hunter and Da'Rick Rogers. The pair of sophomores came in last year and made an immediate impact despite the prominent roles of Moore and Jones. The speedy Hunter established himself as the deep-ball threat for Tennessee, catching a school freshman-record seven touchdown passes and averaging a team-high 25.9 yards per catch. The 6-foot-4, 191-pound Hunter now steps into a starter's role providing speed and big-play ability.

Da'Rick Rogers is a nice complement to Hunter, a physical receiver at 6-3, 215. He showed considerable versatility last year for Tennessee, catching 11 passes for 167 yards but also carrying the ball 16 times for 117 yards in special packages the Vols often deployed. Rogers scored two touchdowns in 2010, including one in the bowl game against North Carolina.

Junior Zach Rogers, sophomore Matt Milton and freshman Vincent Dallas will all see action at receiver. Zach Rogers is a veteran with the Vols and had a solid season in 2010 with 14 catches for 207 yards. Milton was used sparingly last year, but he's improved well in the spring. Dallas was an early enrollee who has impressed quickly.

TIGHT END

>> Lettermen Returning (1):

Mychal Rivera	Jr.	1L

>> Lettermen Lost (1):

Luke Stocker	Sr.	4L

Coming out of spring practice, junior Mychal Rivera is listed as the starter, and the 6-foot-3, 254 Rivera finished 2010 with 11 receptions for 112 yards. A talented group of freshmen are on the horizon for the Vols, including Brendan Downs, a January enrollee who went through spring practice and is listed as the primary backup at the position.

There are big shoes to fill for the Vols at the tight end position with the loss of Luke Stocker to graduation, Stocker finished last season with the third-highest number of catches (39) and reception yards (417) on the team behind the two starting receivers.

The freshman Downs is 6-5, 237 and also a big target at tight end, with Ben Bartholomew also in the mix. Others listed at the tight end position include redshirt freshman Dakota Summers and senior Brent Slusher will lobby for time.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Zach Fulton	OG	So.	1L
Darin Gooch	C	Jr.	1L
Ja'Wuan James	OT	So.	1L
JerQuari Schofield	OG	So.	1L
James Stone	C	So.	1L
Dallas Thomas	OT	Jr.	2L

>> Lettermen Lost (2):

Cody Pope	C	Jr.	1L
Jarrod Shaw	OG	Sr.	3L

Last season, the Vols received 31 starts from freshmen on the offensive line, and the lack of seasoning showed early in the season. As the year progressed and the linemen gained more experience, the Tennessee offensive line continued to improved, particularly as the right combinations were established and players settled into their roles. By season's end, tailback Tauren Poole had more than 1,000 yards rushing and the linemen began what could be a long-lasting relationship with their fellow freshman at quarterback.

This season, coming out of spring camp, it appears the Vols will rely on four sophomores and one junior to anchor the line. The way they line up could be adjusted before the season opener depending on fall camp. Here's how Dooley anticipates things may look in the fall on the offensive line:

Center: James Stone settled into the position as the season progressed last year and heads the depth chart at the position heading into his sophomore campaign. Stone earned Freshman All-America honors by the Football Writers Association of America and The Sporting News. A native of Nashville, he is left-handed and snapped last year with an unorthodox technique. The coaching staff spent this spring working on shifting Stone into a right-handed snapper. Sophomore Alex Bullard moves into the backup role at center after transferring from Notre Dame.

Da'Rick Rogers

Tackle: Bookending the offensive line will most likely be sophomore Ja'Wuan James on the right side and junior Dallas Thomas on the left side. Thomas provides a burst of strength protecting the quarterback's blind side at 6-5, 301 pounds and owns 26 games of playing experience, including 13 starts. On the right side, James is among the biggest bodies on the field at 6-6, 324 and earned Freshman All-SEC honors as a true freshman after starting all 13 games in 2010. Junior Carson Anderson and redshirt freshman Jacob Gilliam will serve as backups.

It's easy to put each lineman into their category and detail their size to indicate what kind of bulldozers they may serve for the running game or what kind of wall they may build for quarterback Tyler Bray. Yet this line's biggest asset isn't size or speed or strength, but rather youth. With a season under their belts and three more to go, the sophomore-dominant line could be on the fast track to being Tennessee's biggest asset – either this year or in the next two seasons.

Entering 2010, the current projected starters for this fall had yet to record a start. As the Vols approach the fall, the projected lineup of Thomas and James at tackle, Stone at center, Fulton at right guard, and either Jackson or Schofield at left guard, own a combined 44 starts.

DEFENSIVE LINE

>> Lettermen Returning (8):

Joseph Ayres	DT	So.	1L
Willie Bohannon	DE	Jr.	2L
Montori Hughes	DT	Jr.	2L
Malik Jackson	DT	Sr.	1L
Corey Miller	DT	So.	1L
Jacques Smith	DE	So.	1L
Rae Sykes	DT	Sr.	1L
Marlon Walls	DE	So.	1L

>> Lettermen Lost (5):

Minor Bowens	DT	Sr.	1L
Ben Martin	DE	Sr.	3L
Victor Thomas	DT	Sr.	2L
Chris Walker	DE	Sr.	4L
Gerald Williams	DE	Sr.	3L

Tennessee's defensive line will very much mirror its offensive line as the front four tacklers will be led by mostly sophomores. The one upperclassman on the line, however, may make the biggest impact.

Senior defensive tackle Malik Jackson will be the big stopper on the Vols' defensive line this season. Jackson transferred to Tennessee from USC prior to last year and stepped into Southeastern Conference play quite nicely. He tallied 48 tackles, 11 tackles for loss to lead the team and five sacks and earned AP All-SEC Second Team honors. Jackson started 12 games for the Vols in 2010 and has played in 27 career games at the collegiate level.

Aside from Jackson, the rest of the defensive line is likely to be filled with players who have considerably less experience. Sophomore Daniel Hood, a converted offensive lineman will challenge for the nose tackle position beside Jackson. Jackson fits in at 6-foot-5, 270, while Hood is 6-4, 293. Corey Miller is listed as a backup at defensive tackle after playing in all 13 games as a freshman, including two starts. Montori Hughes and Joseph Ayres, who saw action last year, are listed as backup as the nose tackle spot.

At the end positions are sophomore Jacques Smith on the left side and junior Willie Bohannon on the right side. Smith played in all 13 games in 2010 and collected five tackles for loss and two sacks last year as a freshman. Bohannon has 5½ career TFLs to go along with three sacks and has 24 career games of experience. Walls, a sophomore who is coming off injury and missed all of 2010, is the backup to Bohannon entering fall camp. Junior Steven Fowlkes also contributed last season and is listed as the backup to Smith.

LINEBACKER

>> Lettermen Returning (9):

Raiques Crump	Fr.	1L
Austin Johnson	Sr.	3L
Greg King	Jr.	2L
Herman Lathers	Jr.	2L
Nigel Mitchell-Thornton	Jr.	2L
John Propst	So.	1L
Shane Reveiz	Sr.	1L
Jake Storey	Sr.	2L
Daryl Vereen	Sr.	3L

>> Lettermen Lost (3):

Savion Frazier	Sr.	4L
Nick Reveiz	Sr.	4L
LaMarcus Thompson	Sr.	4L

Filling the void of losing the team's biggest hitters isn't simple, but that's what the Vols face at linebacker. Yet considering the experience many of the candidates got last season, the group is well-position to take strides forward.

James Stone

Art Evans

Eric Gordon

Nick Reveiz was the emotional leader of the team, and at middle linebacker last season, he led the Vols with 108 tackles, 33 more than anyone else. Savion Frazier and LaMarcus Thompson are also no longer in Volunteer uniforms, and both provided the flanks for Reveiz in one of the Vols' strongest units last season.

For 2011, Tennessee turns to 6-foot, 220-pound junior Herman Lathers to lead from the weakside position. Lathers was starting late in the season last year and wound up second on the tackles list with 75. His nose for the ball will serve him well as one of the Vols' primary tacklers.

Rounding out the middle of the defense will be 6-2, 235-pound senior Austin Johnson, who two years ago was a Tennessee fullback. Johnson had 44 tackles last season, with 3½ TFLs. Sophomore John Propst came on strong late last year and ended up with 14 tackles in his 10 games, earning Freshman All-SEC honors.

Beside him should be 5-11, 215-pound senior Daryl Vereen, who played well late in 2010 and had a solid spring. Vereen collected 18 tackles as a junior and will serve as the elder statesman among the linebackers.

Backing up the strong side should be Raiques Crump, while Greg King is listed at weak side. Tennessee expects each of the linebackers to not only see time on the field, but also contribute in a major way if the Vols are to receive similar production from the linebackers as they did a year ago.

DEFENSIVE BACK

>> Lettermen Returning (9):

Anthony Anderson	Sr.	2L
Brent Brewer	So.	1L
Art Evans	Sr.	3L
Eric Gordon	So.	1L
Janzen Jackson	Jr.	2L
Dontavis Sapp	So.	1L
Marsalis Teague	Jr.	2L
Prentiss Waggner	Jr.	2L
Rod Wilks	Jr.	1L

>> Lettermen Lost (1):

Tyler Wolf	Sr.	2L

The deeper into the Tennessee defense one goes, the more experience one finds. Beginning with the cornerback position, junior Marsalis Teague is currently listed as the starter at one spot with a dual listing at the other position at the moment, including senior Anthony Anderson and true freshman Justin Coleman.

Prentiss Waggner

A year ago, Teague was a converted receiver making a transition to the secondary. The transition went well, as Teague finished with 46 tackles last season and eight pass breakups in his first season in the secondary. Teague has played in 24 games for Tennessee, including 13 starts.

Anderson had 26 tackles last year and an interception as a junior. A local product from Austin-East High School heads into his final year with the hometown Vols in the mix at right cornerback. Additionally, mid-term enrollee Justin Coleman adds to the Vols' deepest position is the secondary and is bracketed as a starter at right cornerback.

Currently listed in backup cornerback slots are sophomore Eric Gordon and senior Art Evans, both of whom are major playmakers and were contributors in 2010. Gordon recorded 43 tackles and two interceptions a year ago, including a return for a touchdown against Ole Miss. Evans started six games at the cornerback position in 2010.

Junior Prentiss Waggner and sophomore Brent Brewer are listed as starters at safety coming out of spring practice. Additionally, Tennessee is missing the services of all-star secondary performer and the team's third-leading tackler from last year Janzen Jackson, who left the team for personal reasons. The Vols are hopeful of Jackson's return down the road, but are moving forward with the existing talent in the defensive backfield – and there's quite a bit of skill there.

Waggner and Brewer jumped right into the action last year for the Vols, with Waggner ranking fifth on the team with 57 tackles. Waggner is listed as one of 42 players on the watch list for the Ronnie Lott IMPACT Award, given annually to the top defensive player in the nation. Last year, he had five interceptions and recovered three fumbles. Brewer finished with 30 tackles and had three pass break-ups. Rod Wilks and Dontavis Sapp will likely serve as backups.

Like cornerback, the safety position very well could see some fresh faces come in during fall camp, when a significant portion of Tennessee's signing class reports. In addition to the existing secondary members, the Vols also signed seven defensive secondary student-athletes to add talent and depth to this part of the defense.

SPECIALISTS

>> Lettermen Returning (2):

Michael Palardy	PK	So.	1L
Nick Guess	DS	Sr.	1L

>> Lettermen Lost (2):

Chad Cunningham	P	Sr.	4L
Daniel Lincoln	PK	Sr.	4L

Tennessee faces a complete overhaul of its kicking game, and the promise looks bright with Matt Darr and Michael Palardy.

Palardy inherits the placekicking duties full-time after starting several games in 2010 in place of injured senior Daniel Lincoln, who missed several games before returning to kick late in the season. Palardy was 5-of-7 in field goal attempts and also handled kickoff duties for the majority of the season, a role he is slated to resume in 2011. Chip Rhome is listed as the backup at kicker and kickoff specialist.

Darr is listed as the starter at punter after redshirting last fall. He originally signed with USC as the nation's top-ranked punting prospect, but was granted his release and came to Tennessee prior to the 2010 season. In addition to his placekicking and kickoff duties, Palardy will serve as Darr's backup at the punter position.

On the return side, The Vols will be searching for the best success at punt returner as last year it was handled by several. This year, head coach Derek Dooley has senior Anthony Anderson listed as the man for the job to begin fall camp.

On kickoff returns, sophomore Da'Rick Rogers is listed as the starter. He produced the Vols' top return in 2010, returning the opening kickoff against Kentucky for 78 yards.

STAFF CHANGES

RON MCKEEFERY

>> Strength and Conditioning Coach

■ Tennessee hired Ron McKeefery as its head strength and conditioning coach on January 17. McKeefery, the 2008 Under Armour Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year, spent 11 seasons (2000-10) with the South Florida program. He earned a bachelor's degree from Ottawa University (Kan.) and a master's degree in adult education from South Florida.

>> Resume

■ United States Army Special Forces (2010-11)
Human Performance Coordinator, 160th Special Operations Aviation Regiment
■ University of South Florida (2000-10)
Assistant Athletics Director for Strength and Conditioning/Head Strength and Conditioning Coach
■ Berlin Thunder (2000)
Head Strength and Conditioning Coach
■ Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1999)
Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

>> Honors & Accolades

■ 2008 Under Armour Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year
■ 2009 NSCA Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Professional of the Year finalist
■ Helped South Florida to six consecutive bowl appearances
■ Groomed 16 NFL draft picks at USF
■ See page 53 for McKeefery's full bio

LANCE THOMPSON

>> Defensive Line Coach

■ Lance Thompson, who coached Tennessee's linebackers in his first two seasons in Knoxville, shifted to coaching the Vols' defensive line this spring.
■ Thompson has significant experience coaching defensive linemen, mentoring the unit for four seasons at Georgia Tech (1996-98, 2001), two seasons at Alabama (1999-2000) and one year at LSU (2002).
■ See page 53 for Thompson's full bio.

PETER SIRMON

>> Linebackers Coach

■ Peter Sirmon transitioned from a graduate assistant role to linebackers coach this spring. As a graduate assistant in 2010, Sirmon coached the Vols' safeties.
■ Sirmon spent seven seasons as a linebacker with the NFL's Tennessee Titans after an All-Pac 10 career at the University of Oregon.
■ After retiring from the NFL, Sirmon coached linebackers at Central Washington before joining Oregon as a graduate assistant during the 2009 season.
■ Sirmon was a teammate and roomate of Vols' second-year defensive coordinator Justin Wilcox at Oregon.
■ See page 52 for Sirmon's full bio.

LOGAN MERRITT

>> Associate Athletic Trainer

■ Logan Merritt joined the sports medicine staff Feb. 1, working directly with the football program while overseeing the men's track and field sports medicine responsibilities.
■ Merritt previously worked for the UT Sports Medicine staff as an intern and graduate assistant athletic trainer for football from 2005-07, while earning his master's degree in sport management.
■ He has also served as a football assistant athletic trainer for both the Louisville (2009-10) and Miami (2007-08) football programs. Merritt previously worked as a season-long intern athletic trainer with the NFL's Houston Texans in 2004-05 after earning his bachelor's degree in athletic training from West Virginia in 2004.

AWARD WATCH

LOTT IMPACT TROPHY

>> Prentiss Waggner

■ Defensive back Prentiss Waggner is one of 42 preseason candidates for the 2011 Lott IMPACT Trophy Award, which honors the top collegiate defensive player in the nation.
■ Sponsored by The Pacific Club IMPACT Foundation in Newport Beach, the award is given to the player who exhibits the same characteristics Ronnie Lott embodied during his distinguished career: Integrity, Maturity, Performance, Academics, Community and Tenacity.
■ Waggner is one of 19 defensive backs and eight SEC student-athletes who are eligibile to win the eighth annual Lott Trophy.
■ Four finalists will be selected to be honored at the annual Lott IMPACT Trophy banquet Dec. 11 in Newport Beach by a national voter panel of former collegiate stars and coaches, members of the media and the Lott IMPACT Board of Directors and Board of Advisors.
■ In 2009, former UT defensive back Eric Berry became the Vols' first finalist for the prestigious award.
■ Previous recipients of the Lott Trophy are: 2004, David Pollack (Georgia); 2005, DeMeco Ryans (Alabama); 2006, Dante Hughes (California); 2007, Glenn Dorsey (LSU); 2008, James Laurinaitis (Ohio State); 2009, Jerry Hughes (TCU); and 2010, J.J. Watt (Wisconsin).

UT SPRING AWARDS

>> About The Awards

■ Each spring, the Tennessee coaching staff selects the number of awards recognizing performance and effort during the off-season and spring practice periods. Award winners are presented at halftime of the Orange and White game.
■ Two of the awards have been a UT tradition since 1979: the Harvey Robinson Award and the Andy Spiva Award.

>> Harvey Robinson Award

■ 2011 Winner: Alex Bullard
■ Presented to the offensive surprise of the spring as selected by the coaching staff in honor of Harvey Robinson, former Vol player (1929-32), assistant coach (1946-52, 1960-63) and head coach (1953-54).

>> Andy Spiva Award

■ 2011 Winner: Daniel Hood
■ Presented to the defensive surprise of the spring as selected by the coaching staff in honor of Andy Spiva, outstanding linebacker from 1973-76.

>> Additional Spring Awards

■ In 2010, head coach Derek Dooley presented three additional awards: the Big Lick Award, Fourth Quarter Award and John Stucky Off-Season Award. The latter honors former strength coaching legend John Stucky.

>> Big Lick Award

■ 2011 Winners: Brent Brewer, Vincent Dallas, Zach Fulton, Jacques Smith
■ Presented to the players who consistently play with the most physical toughness.

>> Fourth Quarter Award

■ 2011 Winners: Willie Bohannon, Malik Jackson, Tauren Poole, Dallas Thomas.

Q&A WITH SIRMON

>> NEW COACH TALKS STYLE

■ Do you feel like you're a better coach now having worked with the secondary with your experience with linebackers?

"I do. I think anytime you see things from a different point of view, it improves your overall understanding of the concepts and schemes. Something that helped me a lot last year was starting to understand more of the passing game, different kinds of alignments and how they change the passing game for the offense."

■ How would you describe your coaching style?

"I think I probably have two separate styles. In the meeting room, I try to be very teacher-friendly and make it an easy environment to learn. I try to have no anxiety for the players in the room so they can be wrong, talk and not worry about being wrong on the field. On the field, it's going to be different where you demand and expect them to do what you're asking them to do and do it with great effort."

■ Having played and having played so recently, what advantage does that give you in coaching these young guys?

"I think anytime you have kind of walked in the same shoes as the players, there's a level of communication and understanding. You're asking them to do things you know can be done and if things are difficult, you understand the problems they're having. It's easier to relate to them."

■ Presented to the players who consistently compete with the intangible values that provide the foundation of the Tennessee Football Program: attitude, discipline, toughness, effort and team.

>> John Stucky Hard Knox Award

■ 2011 Winners: Channing Fugate, Austin Johnson, Matt Simms, Daryl Vereen

■ Presented to the players who demonstrate the best physical and mental conditioning during the off-season program.

ACADEMIC ALL-SEC

>> Football Lands 20 on Fall Honor Roll

■ Tennessee placed 20 football players on the 2010 Southeastern Conference Fall Academic Honor Roll, including three student-athletes that earned their fourth selection: Daniel Lincoln, Nick Reveiz and Tyler Wolf.

■ 2010 Academic All-SEC Honorees

OFF-SEASON HAPPENINGS

FACILITY UPGRADES

>> Football Training Center

■ The Tennessee athletics department unveiled plans for a state-of-the-art, 145,000-square foot building to become the new Football Training Center. The project is slated to be complete in the summer of 2012.

■ Features include an amphitheater-style team room, coaches offices, position meeting rooms, a dining hall, players' lounge, a 7,000-square foot locker room, a 22,000-square foot, multi-level weight room as well as a new training room and hydrotherapy area. Also included in the building is an updated football hall of fame area.

■ The building also features several technological upgrades, including a state-of-the-art video delivery system for players and coaches. The locker room includes, roomy, custom-built and ventilated lockers with electrical outlets for charging portable devices like cellphones, iPods and laptops.

■ The Football Training Center will join with the Brenda Lawson Athletic Center and Neyland-Thompson Sports Center. It will provide athletes direct access to both the 120-yard indoor football field and Haslam Field, Tennessee's two outdoor football practice fields.

NFL PRO DAY

>> Former Vols Participate

■ A dozen former Vols took part in Tennessee's annual pro timing session in front of 24 NFL representatives, March 11, inside the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center. The event allowed scouts the opportunity to witness the skills of recent UT performers in person.

■ The 12 former Vols participating were: Chad Cunningham, Savion Frazier, Gerald Jones, Daniel Lincoln, Denarius Moore, Nick Reveiz, Jarrod Shaw, Luke Stocker, Victor Thomas, LaMarcus Thompson, Chris Walker and Gerald Williams.

TRANSITIONING SPORTS

>> Melvin Goins Joins Squad

■ Melvin Goins, a point guard for Tennessee's basketball team the past two years, joined the Vols during spring practice to pursue the possibility of playing with UT in 2011. Goins last played football as a freshman in high school.

■ "I'm just blessed to have the chance and the opportunity," Goins said. "I never really had it go-

THE COLOR ORANGE

>> The Color Orange: The Condredge Holloway Story

■ Condredge Holloway, UT's Assistant AD for Player Relations, was featured in The Color Orange: The Condredge Holloway Story, an ESPN film debuted in February as a part of the network's Year of the Quarterback initiative. Executive Producer Kenny Chesney narrated the film that documented the life and career of Holloway, the first starting African-American quarterback in the Southeastern Conference.

■ The film was the idea of Chesney, the country music superstar who grew up in the Knoxville area idolizing Tennessee's scrambling quarterback.

■ "I think we all know by now how much Condredge is loved by the amount of people in this room, and who came to see the film tonight. We all know Condredge is a great athlete, and know all the statistics and everything he meant to Tennessee football. But I think the thing that all of us who made this film have realized is that we got to know how great the man is behind the Orange Number 7." -Kenny Chesney

■ The Color Orange: The Condredge Holloway Story debuted Sunday, Feb. 20, on ESPN.

■ Holloway has been inducted into eight halls of fame throughout North America: Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, Canadian Football Hall of Fame, UT Baseball Hall of Fame, and the city halls of fame for Toronto, Ottawa, Knoxville and Huntsville, Ala.

ing through the season with basketball. I figured it would be a good deal for me to go out here and give it a try and see if I still had the ability to do it. Overall, I feel like it will be a good thing for me. Everybody has been very welcoming."

■ Goins, who averaged 1.7 steals per game as a senior, is putting his defensive skills to the test on the field.

■ "I told him he'd make all-conference if he just keeps up that pace in football," Derek Dooley joked. "Melvin wanted to play but he hadn't played in a long time. I thought it was better just to come out here now and get a little feel. We're not going to throw him out there in the fire. After spring, maybe he can decide if wants to really invest in it."

TRANSITIONING POSITIONS

>> Hood Switches Lines

■ After seeing action in six games on the offensive line as a freshman in 2010, Daniel Hood was moved to the defensive line this spring.

■ Hood has transitioned smoothly, earning the top spot on the depth chart at nose tackle at the end of the spring.

OFF-SEASON SETBACKS

>> Herman Lathers

■ Linebacker Herman Lathers underwent successful right shoulder surgery in January. The surgery was performed by Dr. Greg Mathien and Dr. Russell Betcher of the Knoxville Orthopedic Clinic at the University of Tennessee Medical Center.

■ Lathers is expected to return for summer workouts and be ready to participate without restrictions when fall camp begins.

■ See page 76 for Lathers' bio.

>> Ja'Wuan James

■ After the first week of spring practice, it was announced that offensive lineman Ja'Wuan James would miss the remainder of the spring workouts due to mononucleosis.

■ James started all 13 games at right tackle in 2010 and earned Freshman All-SEC honors.

■ See page 74 for James' bio.

>> Austin Johnson

■ Linebackers Austin Johnson (sprained knee) was injured during UT's second spring scrimmage, April 9. He will miss the Orange and White Game.

2011 EARLY ENROLLEES

SIX JOIN IN JANUARY

>> Breakdown

■ Six football student-athletes began classes in January and joined the squad: Justin Coleman, Mack Crowder, Vincent Dallas, Brendan Downs, Marcus Jackson and Justin Worley.

■ Four of the six early enrollees were ranked in the top 20 of their home state by Rivals.com: Coleman (16/Georgia), Crowder (8/Tennessee), Downs (7/Tennessee) and Worley (19/South Carolina).

■ Additionally, Coleman (No. 17 cornerback), Crowder (No. 14 center) and Jackson (No. 13 guard) were ranked in the top 20 at their respective positions by Rivals.

■ For complete profiles on UT's six mid-term enrollees and the Vols' full 2011 signing class, see pages 91-95.

■ Last season, Tennessee had eight early enrollees join the squad in January: Tyler Bray, Channing Fugate, Ja'Wuan James, Ted Meline, Corey Miller, Matt Milton, Matt Simms and Jacques Smith. Of those eight, four are currently atop the depth chart at their respective positions (Bray, Fugate, James and Smith).

SPRING REVIEW

VOLS SCRIMMAGE TWICE

>> Scrimmage One (April 2)

■ Tailback Rajion Neal stole the spotlight, rushing 14 times for 152 yards (10.9 yards per carry) and three touchdowns, including a 63-yard TD early in the afternoon.

■ "Last year, I showed glimpses that I can be a good back," Neal said. "This spring, they're really going to test me. They're going to push me to see what I can do, what I can stand and how I'll react. I feel it's time for me to show them that I can contribute to this team."

■ Brent Brewer led the Vols defensively with a team-high six tackles and one of UT's four interceptions.

■ Defensive lineman Malik Jackson recorded five tackles, three of which set the Vols' offense back a total of 12 yards, including a sack.

■ Wide receiver Da'Rick Rogers' two receptions were both good for touchdowns, totaling 79 yards.

■ UT's early enrollees made an impact:

■ Justin Coleman tied for third on the team with four tackles, while also contributing a pass breakup.

■ Vincent Dallas had UT's second-longest reception of the day (42 yards).

Rajion Neal

■ The Vols recorded 14 tackles for loss, resulting in a total setback of 67 yards. Five of those were sacks.

■ Defensive back Anthony Anderson made a one-handed interception and returned it 81 yards for the defense's lone score.

■ "I was really disappointed in the first half with how the offense came out," head coach Derek Dooley said following the scrimmage. "It was a total dominating first half by the defense, and it was strictly because of more effort, more toughness, more enthusiasm, more spirit, all the intangibles. The offense went about four straight three-and-outs and got kicked around the yard. In the second half, the good news is they responded with a little more energy and a little more emotion and went on a couple of good scoring drives. We have a long way to go."

>> Scrimmage Two (April 9)

■ A week after a dominating display by Tennessee's defense, the offense bounced back and controlled the Vols' second scrimmage of the spring from the beginning.

■ Quarterback Tyler Bray completed his first eight pass attempts for 113 yards and finished the day 17-for-30 for 258 yards, four touchdowns and an interception.

■ "It was a lot better performance by the offense and really a lot better scrimmage by the team from an intangibles standpoint," head coach Derek Dooley said. "The effort, toughness, discipline and execution was a lot better. The offense really came out and controlled the tempo. We looked good throwing the ball. We ran the ball a lot better. The kickers and punters did a lot better. From that standpoint, it's a marked improvement from where we've been."

■ Wide receiver Da'Rick Rogers led the Vols with 120 receiving yards and his six receptions led all wide receivers. His lone touchdown was the Vols' first of the afternoon, a 32-yarder from Bray.

■ Wide receiver Justin Hunter hauled in five receptions for 77 yards and a TD, while tight end Mychal Rivera posted four catches for 44 yards and a pair of TDs.

■ Defensively, linebacker Shane Reveiz led the Vols with nine tackles and recovered a fumble. Dontavis Sapp contributed three tackles, three pass breakups, and an interception that he returned 57 yards for a TD.

■ Rod Wilks also returned an INT for a score, taking the pick 90 yards to the end zone. Montori Hughes had UT's other INT.

■ Overall, UT's defense forced five turnovers.

>> Summing Up The Scrimmages

■ Rogers averaged 24.9 yards per catch through both scrimmages.

■ Bray completed 28-for-57 (.491) pass attempts for 430 yards, seven touchdowns, and three interceptions.

■ UT's defense forced eight total turnovers, averaging four per scrimmage.

■ The Vols defense also tallied a total of 19 tackles for loss.

■ Overall, Brent Brewer collected 11 tackles, 1 TFL (-3), 1 INT, 1 forced fumble, 1 PBU and 1 QB hurry.

■ Justin Coleman tied for third in tackles in each scrimmage.

■ Michael Palardy was 5-for-6 on field goals, including a long of 42.

■ Tailback Rajion Neal led the Vols with 102.5 rushing yards per scrimmage.

SCHEDULES

2011 AT A GLANCE

>> Nice To Meet You

■ For the third consecutive year, the Vols will face two teams that they have never played before in Montana and Buffalo. Last season, the Vols opened new series' with UT Martin and Oregon. In 2009, UT took the field against Western Kentucky and Ohio for the first time.

■ It also marks the fifth consecutive year in which UT is establishing a new series with at least one school. The Vols played Northern Illinois in 2008 and Arkansas State in 2007, UT's first meetings with each.

■ UT is 5-1 in its last six series-opening meetings, its lone loss coming to eventual national championship runner-up Oregon last season. All-time, Tennessee is 96-34-5 (.730) in series lid lifters.

>> Welcome To The Game

■ While head coach Derek Dooley enters his second season at UT, six of the Vols' opponents have head coaches who will be in either their first or second seasons with their respective schools, including the Vols' first four challengers: Montana (Robin Pflugrad/2nd season), Cincinnati (Butch Jones/2nd season), Florida (Will Muschamp/1st season), Buffalo (Jeff Quinn/2nd season), Vanderbilt (James Franklin/1st season) and Kentucky (Joker Phillips/2nd season). Only UC's Butch Jones has additional head coaching experience elsewhere.

>> Easing Into It

■ Tennessee's three contests in September will be the fewest the Vols have played in college football's opening month since playing three September games in 2005 (UAB, Florida and LSU). UT went 2-1 in September of 2005. The Vols have an open date Sept. 24.

>> Another Difficult October Looms

■ The Vols will play five games in October for the first time since 2004, when they went 4-1. UT struggled in October 2010, going 0-4. The final three teams the Vols face in October (LSU, Alabama and South Carolina) boasted a combined 2010 record of 30-10 (.750).

>> November Remembered

■ The Vols won all four November games in 2010 to become bowl eligible, including wins over familiar 2011 November opponents in Vanderbilt and Kentucky. The Vols will also play Middle Tennessee (Nov. 5) and Arkansas (Nov. 12) this season. For more on UT's historic November run last season, see pages 101-102 of the review section.

■ UT is 13-3 in its last 16 November contests.

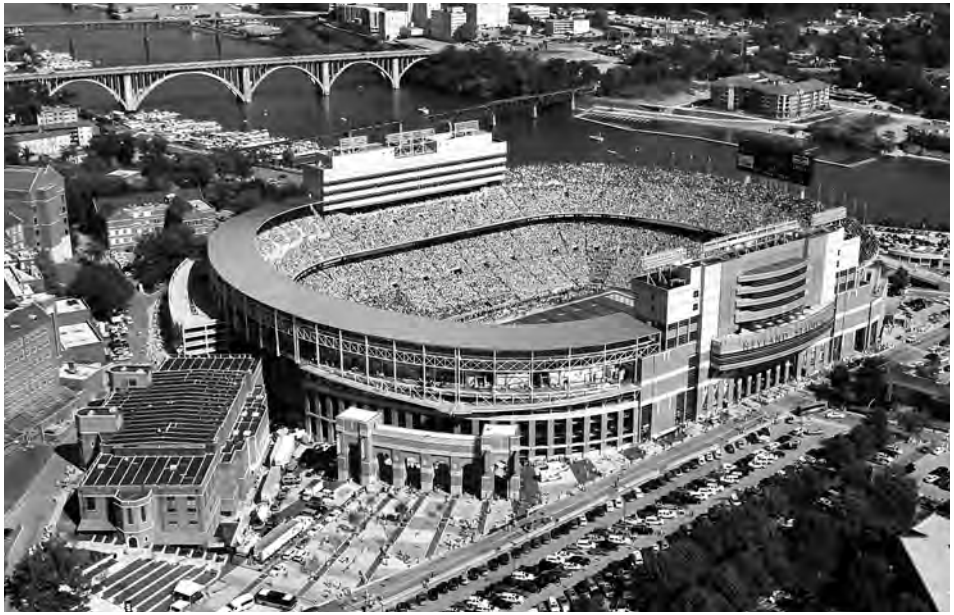
FUTURE OPPONENTS

>> Last 20 Years

■ During the last 20 years, Tennessee's non-conference schedule has included elite competition on an annual basis. The Vols have played Notre Dame and UCLA four times, Miami (Fla.), Syracuse and California twice, along with meetings against Fresno State, Louisville, Marshall, Oklahoma State, Oregon, Texas Tech and Washington State.

>> Future Non-Conference Games

■ 2012 - N.C. State (Atlanta)
■ 2013 - at Oregon
■ 2014 - at Oklahoma
■ 2015 - Oklahoma, at Connecticut
■ 2016 - Connecticut, at Nebraska
■ 2017 - Nebraska
■ 2018 - at Ohio State
■ 2019 - Ohio State



>> Home Sweet Home

■ For the third consecutive season, the Vols will open the season with two games at Neyland Stadium.

>> Strength of Schedule

■ Eight of Tennessee's opponents earned a bid to play in a bowl game last season: Florida (Outback), Georgia (Liberty), LSU (Cotton), Alabama (Capital One), South Carolina (Chick-fil-A), Middle Tennessee (GoDaddy.com), Arkansas (Sugar) and Kentucky (Compass).

■ Tennessee's 2011 opponents compiled an overall 2010 record of 81-71, but six of the Vols' competitors posted losing records a season ago: Cincinnati (4-8), Buffalo (2-10), Georgia (6-7), Middle Tennessee (6-7), Vanderbilt (2-10) and Kentucky (6-7).

■ Four of the Vols' opponents were ranked in the final Associated Press and Coaches' polls in 2010: LSU (AP-8, Coaches-8), Alabama (AP-10, Coaches-11), South Carolina (AP-22, Coaches-22) and Arkansas (AP-12, Coaches-12).

>> In-State Opponents

■ The Vols will play two schools from the state of Tennessee for the third consecutive season (Middle Tennessee and Vanderbilt). In 2009 and 2010, the Vols played both Memphis and Vanderbilt. Tennessee also played UT Martin last season. The Vols have won nine consecutive games against in-state rivals, last losing to another team from Tennessee Nov. 19, 2005 vs. Vanderbilt, 24-28.

>> Second Year of the Decade

■ In the second year of the last 11 decades, the Vols are 83-27-7 (.739), including being named National and SEC Champions in 1951.

Looking back at the last 100 years:

Year	Record	Titles
2001	11-2	--
1991	9-3	--
1981	8-4	--
1971	10-2	--
1961	6-4	--
1951	10-1	National Champions SEC Champions
1941	8-2-1	--
1931	9-0-1	--
1921	6-2-1	--
1911	3-4-2	--

>> Dooley's Second Year

■ Derek Dooley is currently in his second year as UT's head coach. 15 coaches have seen a second season on Rocky Top and eight of those have seen an improvement in their second-year records compared to their first. All-time, UT coaches are 92-44-11 (.663) in their second season at the helm.

■ Adding to the overall improvement, two coaches have won conference championships at UT in their second seasons. Bowden Wyatt led the Vols to an SEC Championship in 1956, while General Neyland coached UT to a Southern Conference Championship in 1927.

Coaches in their second seasons at UT:

Name	Year	Record
Phillip Fulmer	1994	8-4
Johnny Majors	1978	5-5-1
Bill Battle	1971	10-2
Doug Dickey	1965	8-1-2
Bowden Wyatt	1956	10-1
Harvey Robinson	1954	4-6
John Barnhill	1942	9-1-1

H.F. Fisher	1903	4-5
J.A. Pierce	1900	3-2-1

*__Bolded records__ indicate improvement vs. first year.

2011 BREAKDOWN

>> Montana

■ First all-time meeting.

■ Tennessee's first all-time meeting against any member of the currently constructed Big Sky conference.

■ The Vols have won their last two season openers and are 84-24-6 (.763) all-time.

■ Tennessee has also won its past 16 home openers and is 90-18-5 (.819) all-time.

■ The Vols are 14-0 against teams currently not in a BCS conference.

■ Vols' earliest season opener since 2008 (9/1 vs. UCLA) and earliest home opener since 2006 (9/2 vs. California).

>> Cincinnati

■ The Vols are 4-1 all-time vs. the Bearcats, including wins in their last four meetings. All five contests have been played in Knoxville.

■ First game for UT against a member of the currently constructed BIG EAST since a 35-14 win against Rutgers, Sept. 28, 2002.

■ All-time, the Vols are 15-4 (.789) against current BIG EAST members.

■ Cincinnati's 18 returning starters are tied for the second-most that the Vols will face in 2011.

■ Cincinnati opens its season vs. Austin Peay on Sept. 1, giving the Bearcats nine days in between their Sept. 10 date with the Vols. That marks the longest layover that any of UT's non-conference opponents will have before playing the Vols.

>> Florida

■ The Gators will open the season at home vs. Florida Atlantic and UAB before playing host to the Vols.

■ Florida has won the last six meetings to take a 21-19 series lead. The Vols last defeated the Gators, 30-28, at home in 2004 while also winning in Gainesville, 24-10, in 2003.

■ UF leads the series in Gainesville, 10-5.

■ Florida's 13 returning starters are tied for the lowest total of any SEC opponent that the Vols will face this season, while the Gators' 45 returning lettermen are tied for the lowest figure overall of any team on UT's schedule.

■ Will Muschamp enters his first season as Florida's head coach. Tennessee is 4-3 against Florida when the Gators take the field with a first-year head coach.

■ Wide receiver Justin Hunter collected his first career touchdown against the Gators in 2010 (9/18), a 35-yarder.

>> Buffalo

■ First all-time meeting.

■ The Bulls are UT's second non-conference opponent to open October since 1995. The only other non-SEC team to begin UT's October schedule in that period was Northern Illinois, also from the Mid-American Conference, in 2008.

■ The Vols are 5-0 against current MAC teams all-time, including recent wins vs. Ohio in 2009 and Northern Illinois in 2008.

■ Buffalo's 2-10 record in 2010 tied Vanderbilt for the worst of any 2011 UT opponent.

■ This game opens a three-game homestand, UT's longest of the season.

>> Georgia

■ The Vols and Bulldogs have swapped victories since 2007, with the home team winning each time. UT hosts UGA this season and holds an 11-8-1 record against the Bulldogs in Knoxville.

■ UT will look to avenge its most lopsided road loss last season at Georgia (14-41).

■ Tennessee owns a 21-17-2 all-time mark against Georgia.

■ Four of the last five meetings have been decided by at least 18 points.

■ Georgia will play in the Chick-fil-A Kickoff Game against Boise State in Atlanta, Sept. 3.

■ UT's 26-point victory against Georgia (45-19) is the Bulldogs' largest loss in the past two seasons.

■ Mark Richt, in his 11th season at Georgia, is tied as the longest tenured coach at his respective school of any of UT's opponents.

>> LSU

■ This mid-October meeting in Knoxville is likely to be one of the most highly-anticipated match-ups of the season for the Vols after last season's heartbreaking 16-14 loss at LSU. After the clock read 0:00 with the scoreboard in UT's favor, the Vols were penalized for having too many men on the field during the final play. With one last shot, LSU's Stevan Ridley plunged into the end zone with no time on the clock as the Tigers escaped with a two-point victory.

■ Despite last season's loss, the Vols own a 20-8-3 record all-time against LSU, including a 11-2-1 mark in Knoxville.

■ LSU has won three consecutive meetings with UT, including a 28-24 triumph in Knoxville in 2006. Previously, the Tigers hadn't won at Neyland Stadium since 1988.

■ Les Miles, in his 11th season at LSU, is tied as the longest tenured coach at his respective school of any of UT's opponents.

■ LSU opens the season Sept. 3 against Oregon in the Cowboys Classic game at Cowboys Stadium in Arlington, Texas.

■ The Tigers finished with the highest final 2010 poll rankings of any of UT's 2011 opponents, placing eighth in both the Associated Press and Coaches' polls.

>> Alabama

■ Alabama has won four consecutive meetings and leads the all-time series 47-38-7, including a slight 5-4 edge in Tuscaloosa.

■ The Vols' last victory in Tuscaloosa came in a five-overtime effort, a 51-43 win in 2003.

■ Alabama's Bryant-Denny Stadium ranks as the fifth-largest collegiate football stadium in the country with a capacity of 101,821. Outside of Neyland Stadium, it's the largest venue that Tennessee will play at in 2011.

■ The Tide's 53 returning lettermen are tied for the most UT will face this season, while their 18 returning starters rank tied as the second most on UT's schedule.

■ Tailback Tauren Poole became the first individual to rush for more than 100 yards against Alabama in 41 games and was the only one to accomplish the feat last season. Poole had 117 yards, including a career-long 59-yard TD rush in the first quarter.

>> South Carolina

■ The Vols and Gamecocks have traded wins since 2007, with the home team prevailing each time. UT hosts USC this season and holds a 14-1 record against the Gamecocks in Knoxville.

■ South Carolina's lone win in Knoxville was a 16-15 victory in 2005. Overall, the Vols lead the all-time series 22-5-2.

■ USC head coach Steve Spurrier is the winningest coach on Tennessee's schedule with 186 victories.

■ The Gamecocks have an open date the week prior to their trip to Knoxville (Oct. 22), giving them a 14-day break in between games, the longest any UT opponent has in 2011 prior to playing the Vols.

■ USC's 13 returning starters are tied for the lowest total of any SEC opponent that the Vols will face this season.

>> Middle Tennessee

■ The Vols and Blue Raiders have met just once, a 26-3 UT victory in 2002 in Knoxville. The Vols have won nine straight games against in-state opponents.

■ Tennessee is 6-0 against current members of the Sun Belt conference.

■ The Vols are 14-0 against teams currently not in a BCS conference.

■ MTSU is UT's only non-conference opponent who played in a bowl game last season, participating in the GoDaddy.com Bowl, but falling 35-21 to Miami (Ohio).

■ The Blue Raiders return just 10 starters, the fewest of any Vols' competitor.

>> Arkansas

■ Tennessee will travel to Fayetteville, Ark. for the first time since 2006, where the Vols are 2-2 against the Razorbacks. All-time, UT leads the series 13-3.

■ The Vols won the previous meeting, 34-13, in Knoxville, but haven't won in Fayetteville since a 13-3 victory in 2001.

■ Arkansas is UT's only opponent to have played in a BCS game in 2010. The Razorbacks lost to Ohio State, 31-26, in the Sugar Bowl.

■ Arkansas is one of three UT opponents who notched double-digit wins (10) last season.

■ Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium (72,000) is the third-largest stadium that the Vols will play in away from home.

>> Vanderbilt

■ With a 24-10 victory against the Commodores in 2010, the Vols stretched their all-time series lead to a 72-27-5 mark.

■ Tennessee has won five straight against Vanderbilt, but the Commorodes were the last in-state rival to defeat the Vols, doing so in a 28-24 win in Knoxville in 2005. Since then, UT has posted nine straight victories over fellow Tennessee teams.

■ Vanderbilt returns 21 of its 24 starters from 2010, the highest total for any UT opponent. The next-highest figure is 18 for both Alabama and Cincinnati.

■ Vanderbilt's 2-10 record in 2010 tied Buffalo for the worst of any UT opponent.

■ Wide receiver Da'Rick Rogers set career highs of three receptions for 59 yards vs. Vanderbilt last season.

>> Kentucky

■ Tennessee upheld the longest active winning streak in a series between two major college teams with its 26th straight win over the Wildcats in 2010. The Vols' 24-14 victory made them bowl eligible.

■ Tennessee leads the all-time series 74-23-9 and holds a 35-13-3 advantage in Lexington. UK last defeated the Vols in Lexington in 1981.

■ Kentucky's 53 returning lettermen are tied with Alabama for the most for any team on UT's schedule.

■ Quarterback Tyler Bray tossed for a career-high 354 passing yards to lead the Vols against Kentucky last year.

HEAD COACH DEREK DOOLEY

SECOND SEASON AT TENNESSEE

>> THE FACTS

- Born: June 10, 1968 (Athens, Ga.)
- Wife: Dr. Allison Jeffers Dooley
- Children: John Taylor, Peyton and Julianna

- Education
Clarke Central High School
University of Virginia 1991
University of Georgia Law School 1994

- College Football
Wide Receiver
University of Virginia 1987-90

Derek Dooley may own a rival's pedigree, but to Tennessee fans he felt just like one of their own when the Vols introduced him as the school's 22nd head coach in January 2010.

Dooley, 42, came to UT after three seasons as head coach at Louisiana Tech, where he also served as athletics director since March 2008. He was the only athletics director serving as head football coach on the major college level.

But it is his family lineage where Tennessee and Southeastern Conference football fans make the connection. Dooley is the youngest son of Georgia legend Vince Dooley, who coached the Bulldogs for 25 seasons and claimed six league titles and the 1980 national championship.

And yet Tennessee's Dooley sounds right at home on Rocky Top.

"As most of you know, I grew up in this conference," he said. "I grew up in the SEC. It didn't take me long as a youngster to realize that Tennessee was the essence of college football. Even as a young kid, watching the team run through the 'T,' when you see checkerboard end zones and, of course, hear 'Rocky Top' – those were vivid memories as a youngster."

In Dooley's first season at the helm of the Tennessee football program, the Vols finished 6-7, winning all four games in November and playing North Carolina in the Franklin American Mortgage Music City Bowl.

The bright future on the horizon for Tennessee football was exemplified by performances from the talented freshmen class. Tennessee played 26 freshmen in 2010, including 16 true freshmen, both the third-highest totals in major college football. A school-record seven true freshmen started against Memphis.

Many of the 2010 UT freshmen assumed significant roles and produced record-setting seasons. Quarterback Tyler Bray was 4-1 as a starter and set a Tennessee record for passing yards by a freshman with 1,537. He also set overall school records for passing touchdowns (5) and passing yards (308) in a single half (both at Memphis).

Freshman wide receiver Justin Hunter set a Tennessee freshman record with seven receiving touchdowns and averaged nearly 26 yards per catch this season. Additionally, the Vols received 31 starts by freshmen on the offensive line, including right tackle Ja'Wuan James, who started all 13 games. James Stone (8 starts), JerQuari Schofield (5 starts) and Zach Fulton (5 starts) also started multiple games on the offensive line in 2010.

And while the future certainly seems promising, the 2010 team featured a big-play offense that produced 71 plays of 20-plus yards, 19 of which were touchdowns, a significant increase from the 2009 totals of 61 plays of 20-plus yards, 10 of which went for touchdowns.

The 2010 Vols developed as the season progressed defensively as well, ranking eighth nationally in November by allowing only 13.0 points per game. Tennessee also was a plus-9 in turnover margin in November, the third-best total nationally. And despite having such a young roster, the disciplined nature of the 2010 Vols allowed them to rank third in the conference in fewest penalty yards per game for the entire season (41.5 yards per game).

Dooley never accepted the predetermined path to success. He played his college football at Virginia, turning down scholarship offers elsewhere to walk on and later earn his own scholarship from Cavaliers head coach George Welsh.

As a wide receiver, Dooley earned that scholarship after his second season and went on to help the Cavaliers to three bowl appearances and the 1989 Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

In 1990, he was named first team Academic All-ACC and helped Virginia to a Sugar Bowl bid against Tennessee.

COACHING CAREER

Year	School	Position

604 yards and three touchdowns. His level of play was such in the 1990 season that he was invited to and participated in the Senior Bowl.

He graduated that year with a bachelor's degree in government and foreign affairs, and then went on to earn his law degree from the University of Georgia in 1994.

After a successful start to the legal profession, Dooley switched gears and returned to his love of football. Four short years later, he latched onto the staff of Nick Saban at LSU and moved into the fast lane of the SEC. After five successful seasons that included two SEC titles and the 2003 national championship, Dooley moved with Saban to the NFL's Miami Dolphins.

"I really thrived in his way of doing things," Dooley said of Saban. "I'm very grateful for the opportunity he gave me in wearing so many hats, coaching different positions, coordinating recruiting and coordinating special teams, assistant head coach -- he really allowed me to blossom as a young coach."

But rather than remain in that comfort zone, Dooley again chose his own path toward success – a path that returned him to the state of Louisiana.

"There was a part of me that said stay in your comfort zone, sit tight, and, hopefully, one day it (head coaching job) would come," Dooley said. "That really isn't who I am, and I felt I needed to develop more to be ready when I got this opportunity."

Dooley was named to his first head coaching position by Louisiana Tech in December 2006, and immediately began laying the foundation for future success. Included in his 23-26 overall record was an 8-5 mark in 2008 highlighted by the school's first postseason victory in 30 years at the Independence Bowl. Tech finished second in the WAC that season and played in a bowl game for only the third time since joining the major college ranks in 1989.

Tennessee Director of Athletics Mike Hamilton, always a visionary, saw in Dooley a rising star on the sidelines that could fit right away into his rugged SEC surroundings.

"Derek is one of the bright young coaches in America," Hamilton said. "He understands our league and the competitive environment in which we compete. He took a very difficult first head coaching job and made significant strides there in a short period of time.

"He is incredibly bright, a tireless recruiter and excellent on-the-field coach."

Dooley began his coaching career in 1996 as a graduate assistant at Georgia under defensive coordinator Joe Kines. He then served from 1997-99 as wide receivers coach and co-recruiting coordinator at SMU, where Dooley helped the Mustangs to the school's only winning season over a 20-year stretch.

Dooley joined the staff at LSU under Saban in 2000, serving as recruiting coordinator and tight ends coach from 2000-02 and then running backs coach and special teams coordinator from 2003-04. While LSU's recruiting coordinator, Dooley helped the Tigers land No. 1 classes in 2001 and 2003.

The Tigers won SEC championships both of those seasons, claimed the BCS national championship in 2003, and Saban promoted Dooley to assistant head coach for the 2004 campaign.

Under Dooley's tutelage, running back Justin Vincent set an LSU freshman record by rushing for 1,001 yards in 2003. He went on to be named MVP of both the SEC Championship Game as well as the Sugar Bowl, during which LSU claimed the BCS national title.

In 2004, the Tigers finished first in the SEC in rushing (193.8 yards per game), led by Alley Broussard (867 yards, 6.1 avg.) and Joseph Addai (680 yards, 6.7 avg.), a first-round draft choice of Indianapolis in 2006.

Dooley left with Saban to serve as tight ends coach for the Dolphins from 2005-06. During his two years in Miami, Dooley oversaw the continued development of tight end Randy McMichael, who ended his Dolphins career as the all-time leader in receptions by a tight end.

Dooley is married to Dr. Allison Jeffers Dooley, an OB/GYN and Fort Worth, Texas, native. They have two sons, John Taylor (12) and Peyton (9), and a daughter, Julianna (7).

Allison is active in fundraising and serves on the Board of Directors locally for the Susan G. Komen Foundation for breast cancer research. She also serves on the Board of Directors for Imagination Library.

The Dooleys also host an annual fundraising event for Variety, an organization that provides financial support for numerous children's charities.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT DEREK DOOLEY

"(Derek) Dooley is not only the right kind of coach, he is the right kind of MAN that Tennessee needs to lead its football program at this point in history."

>> Tony Barnhart
National college football journalist and longtime sportswriter for the Atlanta Journal-Constitution

"Coach Dooley is such a bright person. He made me a better person on and off the field. He made me focus every day on every aspect of the game. As a coach, he makes you the best player you can possibly be. He'll coach you like you've never been coached, and he'll push you to your maximum potential. He is a phenomenal teacher."

>> Randy McMichael
St. Louis Rams tight end

"He's the kind of coach that's got a lot of energy, and he's somebody that you can relate to on a personal level. He's great at giving advice while being upbeat at the same time. There aren't many coaches that will let you have fun while getting the job done at the same time. He has the ability to get that out of you."

>> Joseph Addai
Indianapolis Colts tailback

"I really admire and look up to him. Not only is he a great coach, but he is a great man. He comes from a background of tradition of winning, and he represents what you expect from in a coach. You can believe and fully trust him. He is a high-character man and a player's coach."

The start to Jim Chaney's second season at Tennessee certainly offered a monumental assignment. UT's offensive coordinator faced the task of replacing his quarterback, finding a starting tailback and overhauling nearly the entire offensive line.

But Chaney once again pushed all the right buttons to produce what turned into a terrific rushing and passing combination that vaulted Tennessee into another bowl game. Chaney saw junior Tauren Poole pass the 1,000-yard rushing plateau during his first season as the starter, and then watched as true freshman Tyler Bray threw for a UT freshman-record 1,849 yards while leading the Vols to a 4-0 November.

All this behind an offensive line that jelled down the stretch and offers a solid anchor for Tennessee's surging fortunes.

Chaney, 49, arrived in Knoxville in 2009 from the NFL ranks, having spent the three previous seasons as assistant coach for the St. Louis Rams.

The majority of Chaney's coaching experience, however, comes from the collegiate ranks. His coaching and recruiting turns at Purdue, Wyoming and Cal State Fullerton made him the perfect fit for Tennessee.

Chaney spent all three years in St. Louis coaching the offensive line before adding tight ends to his assignment sheet in 2008. During the 2007 campaign, Chaney helped coach an offensive line that led running back Steven Jackson to his third consecutive 1,000-yard season.

Possessing one of college football's best offensive minds, Chaney helped the Boilermakers lead the Big Ten in passing offense five times and total offense three. Purdue was ranked in the top 10 in the nation in total offense in six seasons, including 2000, when the Boilermakers ranked fourth.

Quarterback Drew Brees, a second-round draft pick by the San Diego Chargers in 2001, was the NCAA total offense champion in 2000, averaging 349.1 yards per game, and received the Maxwell Award as the nation's outstanding player. Tim Stratton received the inaugural John Mackey Award as the nation's best tight end in 2000.

More importantly, the 2000 combination of Chaney and Brees under head coach Joe Tiller led Purdue to its first Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl berth in 33 years.

From 1997-2001, Chaney served as recruiting coordinator and helped the Boilermakers sign some of the country's top high school talent. The 1998 class was ranked second in the Big Ten and 11th nationally. Each of Chaney's last five classes was in the top 30 nationally.

Before his Purdue tenure, Chaney was offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Wyoming in 1995 and 1996. He joined the Cowboys in 1993 as a graduate assistant, working with the tight ends and recruiting.

Chaney broke into coaching at Cal State Fullerton in 1985. He served in many areas, including offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator as well as coaching all offensive positions. Chaney had a stint as the offensive line coach at Western Michigan during the spring of 1988 before returning to Cal State Fullerton.

A native of Holden, Mo., Chaney earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Central Missouri State University in 1985 after a career at nose guard. He earned All-Conference honors as a senior.

Chaney and his wife, Lisa, who hails from Rock Springs, Wyo., are the parents of daughters Elizabeth and Sara.

Wilcox blended a unit of defenders that hit its stride during Tennessee's unbeaten November streak to a bowl game. The Vols defense registered more sacks, forced turnovers and took advantage with big-play scoring opportunities while limiting four straight foes to no more than 14 points.

Wilcox came to Knoxville from Boise State, where for the previous four seasons he served as defensive coordinator and helped the Broncos blast their way into the elite of college football. In 2009, Boise State completed a perfect 14-0 season with a Fiesta Bowl victory over TCU.

Wilcox, 34, made his mark on the national defensive rankings in 2009, guiding the Broncos to a No. 14 statistical finish in both total defense and scoring defense and a No. 3 showing in turnover margin. Boise State bookended the season with two of its most impressive victories, clamping down on Pac-10 Conference champion Oregon 19-8 to start the year and then closing with the 17-10 triumph over previously undefeated TCU at the Fiesta Bowl.

The Broncos of 2008 were nearly as tough, finishing 12-1 and winning their second Western Athletic Conference title in three seasons. Wilcox's defense ranked third nationally in scoring, allowing just 12.6 points per game and holding eight of its 13 opponents to 10 points or fewer.

Boise State led the WAC in total defense and scoring defense all four seasons under Wilcox.

Wilcox coached six seasons overall in Boise, also working as a graduate assistant for the Broncos from 2001-02. Among his prized stalwarts were defensive end Ryan Winterswyk and defensive back Kyle Wilson, both of whom twice earned All-WAC first team nods.

In both 2007 and 2006, the Broncos also led the WAC in rushing defense. Boise State was eighth nationally against the run during Wilcox's debut season as defensive coordinator, and his overall defensive scheme was instrumental in helping that 2006 squad to a 13-0 record and the now-famous 43-42 overtime win over Oklahoma in the Fiesta Bowl.

Before returning to Boise State as defensive coordinator, Wilcox spent three seasons (2003-05) at California as linebackers coach. Wilcox was credited with turning his linebackers into a unit that epitomized the Cal defense's swarm-to-the-ball philosophy, and the Bears went to three straight bowls and combined for a 26-12 record.

In his two seasons as a graduate assistant at Boise State, Wilcox worked with the outside linebackers. He helped Boise State to an upset victory over No. 8 Fresno State in 2001 and a 12-1 record and No. 15 national ranking in 2002.

The Junction City, Ore., native played collegiately at Oregon from 1995-99 and was a part of four teams that advanced to bowl games. He played in the 1997 Las Vegas, 1998 Aloha, and 1999 Sun bowls. He redshirted in 1995 when Oregon participated in the Cotton Bowl.

His first three years were spent at safety before he moved to cornerback as a senior in 1999 and claimed All-Pac-10 second-team honors. Wilcox earned his bachelor's degree in anthropology from Oregon in 1999.

Wilcox is the son of Dave Wilcox, All-Pro linebacker for the San Francisco 49ers who was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2000.

CHARLIE BAGGETT

Assistant Head Coach/ Wide Receivers

Charlie Baggett blended a talented mixture of upperclassmen and newcomers to give the Vols an excellent receiving corps during his first year at UT.

The NFL veteran, who has coached nine 1,000-yard receivers in the pro ranks, saw seniors Gerald Jones and Denarius Moore lead Tennessee in 2010. Jones was tops in catches with 55 for 596 yards and four touchdowns, while Moore led the way with 981 receiving yards and nine TDs on 47 receptions.

Freshmen also thrived under Baggett's leadership. Justin Hunter made his presence felt with a team-leading 25.9-yard receiving average, finishing with 16 catches for 415 yards. His seven receiving scores were second only to Moore. Da'Rick Rogers caught 11 passes for 167 yards to go with 117 rushing yards and a 24.8-yard kickoff return average.

Baggett, 58, who serves as Tennessee's assistant head coach and wide receivers coach, brought 33 years of coaching experience to the Vols, including 11 seasons as an NFL assistant.

Baggett spent 2009 with the St. Louis Rams and before that was at Washington, where he coached the Huskies' wide receivers from 2007-08. Baggett was associate head coach/offense and wide receivers coach for the Miami Dolphins from 2005-06, coaching under Nick Saban and alongside Dooley.

Under Baggett, Dolphins wide receiver Chris Chambers had a Pro Bowl season in 2005, catching 82 passes for 1,118 yards and 11 touchdowns.

Baggett was wide receivers coach for the Vikings from 2000-04, coaching Cris Carter and Randy Moss. In the first four seasons of Baggett's tenure, Moss had 376 receptions for 5,649 yards and 49 touchdowns, all of which ranked in the top three in the NFL.

A native of Fayetteville, N.C., Baggett and his wife, Lisa, have a daughter, Camille.

HARRY HIESTAND

Offensive Line

Harry Hiestand (pronounced HE-stand) faced the daunting task of putting together his first offensive line at Tennessee from an inexperienced group. The Vols returned only one player with any starting experience at all, and that amounted to a total of three starts.

Yet the former Super Bowl coach with the Chicago Bears molded Tennessee's young but talented group up front and formed a unit that should be a foundation for growth over the next few seasons.

Hiestand saw his two tackles, sophomore Dallas Thomas and true freshman Ja'Wuan James, start every game. There was plenty of movement inside, but Jarrod Shaw – the lone starting veteran of the bunch – proved his versatility by playing in all three interior positions as needed. Two more true freshmen, James Stone at center and Zach Fulton at guard, worked their way into the starting lineup under Hiestand's guidance, with Stone earning multiple Freshman All-America honors.

The Malvern, Pa., native came to UT after five seasons as offensive line coach with the Chicago Bears, where he helped the NFL franchise to its first Super Bowl appearance in 21 years.

Before that, Hiestand coached 17 seasons at four different major college schools, the longest tenure being eight seasons as offensive line coach and assistant head coach at Illinois.

The 52-year-old has been coaching offensive linemen and tight ends since 1982. In Chicago, Hiestand molded units that were known for their physical play in the run game and ability to protect the quarterback. The NFC-champion Bears of 2006 attempted 539 passes while permitting just 25 sacks, and the 2008 squad attempted 557 passes and absorbed just 29 sacks.

During his Illinois days, Hiestand coached 12 All-Big Ten Conference selections on the offensive line. Every starting offensive lineman in Hiestand's first seven years with the Illini made it to an NFL camp.

Hiestand and his wife, Terri, have three sons, Michael, Matthew and Mark, and one daughter, Sarah.

DARIN HINSHAW

Quarterbacks

Darin Hinshaw's impact was immediate as Tennessee's first-year quarterbacks coach. The former signal-caller helped two UT quarterbacks – both making their debuts in Knoxville – lead the Vols offense to a bowl game and a third-place finish in the SEC's Eastern Division.

Hinshaw's quarterback duo of Matt Simms and Tyler Bray combined for 3,309 yards passing and 26 touchdowns in 2010. The true freshman Bray assumed the starter's role in November and guided the team to a 4-0 finish to claim bowl eligibility. During those four starts, Bray threw for 1,234 yards and 12 TDs against just four interceptions, earning SEC Freshman of the Week three times.

A Punta Gorda, Fla., native, Hinshaw was a record-setting quarterback himself during his collegiate playing days and spent the last three seasons as wide receivers coach at Memphis on the staff of former Vols footballer Tommy West.

Prior to that, Hinshaw worked at Middle Tennessee for five seasons. He was the running backs coach his first two seasons before being elevated to co-offensive coordinator in February 2003.

Hinshaw made his way to Middle Tennessee from Central Florida, his alma mater. Hinshaw spent 1999 as a graduate assistant before taking over the quarterback coaching duties in 2000.

He set numerous school records for the Knights, finishing as career leader in every major passing category, including yards (9,000) and TDs (82). During his time under center, UCF had a combined 28-16 record, including a 9-3 mark in 1993 that resulted in a berth in the Division I-AA playoffs. Hinshaw was named in 2004 to UCF's 25th Anniversary Team.

Following his playing days at UCF, Hinshaw began a career in pro football. After a brief stint with the Cleveland Browns, he spent two years with the Orlando Predators of the Arena Football League.

Hinshaw and his wife, Pam, have four children: daughters Sydney, Hayley and Carley; and son Darin Jr.

TERRY JOSEPH

Defensive Backs/ Recruiting Coordinator

Terry Joseph's defensive secondary unit helped the Vols finish among the nation's top 20 with 18 interceptions in 2010.

UT's 18 picks also were fourth in the SEC while tying for 19th overall in major college football, and 10 of those 18 interceptions helped spark Tennessee's 4-0 November run to a bowl game.

Only safety Janzen Jackson started every game, while Joseph matched five other consistently improving defenders among the three remaining secondary positions. Prentiss Waggner joined Jackson to earn All-SEC second team honors, and Marsalis Teague, Eric Gordon and Brent Brewer were among the key figures in Tennessee's defensive turnaround.

Joseph also serves as recruiting coordinator under Derek Dooley, and the New Orleans native held those same duties the previous three seasons on Dooley's staff at Louisiana Tech. Joseph helped turn around a Bulldogs secondary unit that sliced its scoring defense average nearly in half by 2008.

That's the year Tech won its first bowl game in 30 years at the Independence Bowl. The Bulldogs finished second in the WAC and played in a bowl game for only the third time since 1989.

Joseph also coordinated Tech's recruiting, and the 2009 class ranked second in the league. Rivals.com tabbed Joseph as the No. 4 non-BCS recruiter.

Joseph, 37, came to Tech after one graduate assistant season at LSU, where he worked under head coach Les Miles and defensive coordinator Bo Pelini.

Before that, Joseph gathered knowledge of the Louisiana high school football circuit -- especially south Louisiana -- thanks to his three seasons each as an assistant coach at both Archbishop Shaw and Destrehan high schools in the New Orleans area.

Joseph earned his bachelor's degree from Northwestern State in 1996. He was the 1995 Southland Conference Baseball Player of the Year and went on to four minor league playing seasons in the Chicago Cubs and San Diego Padres systems.

He is married to the former Amanda Gauthe of Destrehan, La., and they are the parents of daughters Taylor and Lynleigh.

ERIC RUSSELL

Special Teams Coordinator/ Tight Ends

Tennessee head coach Derek Dooley welcomed a familiar face when he named Eric Russell to his assistant coaching staff. Russell coached two seasons under Dooley at Louisiana Tech before moving to the Texas Tech staff.

During his first season in Knoxville, Russell sparked improvement in UT's special teams units. The combination of Daniel Lincoln and true freshman Michael Palardy made 15 of 18 field goals. Additionally, the kickoff return teams averaged 21.5 yards while allowing only 19.0 yards per return. The Vols also successfully pulled off two fake punts for first downs and a kickoff reverse that sent true freshman Da'Rick Rogers on a 78-yard runback.

Russell, 43, was special teams coordinator at Texas Tech in 2009. The Idaho native arrived in Lubbock after two successful seasons at Louisiana Tech under Dooley.

Before that, Russell spent 13 seasons at North Texas, including five as the special teams coordinator. During his tenure at North Texas, Russell helped lead the program to four consecutive Sun Belt Conference titles and four consecutive appearances in the New Orleans Bowl from 2001-04.

During his time as special teams coordinator, North Texas blocked 14 punts, including seven during the 2003 season.

Prior to joining the North Texas staff in 1994, Russell served as a graduate assistant at New Mexico in 1993 and at Idaho in 1991.

An all-state quarterback at St. Marie's High School, Russell was named the Idaho Offensive Player of the Year as a senior before earning all-conference honors at Spokane (Wash.) Falls Community College in 1986-87. He earned his bachelor's degree in public relations from Idaho in 1991.

Russell is married to the former Shannon Cook of Tyler, Texas, and the couple has a son, Hayden, and a daughter, Hadleigh.

PETER SIRMON

Linebackers

Peter Sirmon became the newest member of the Tennessee staff when he was promoted during the winter to assistant coach in charge of linebackers.

Sirmon, 34, spent last season at Tennessee as a graduate assistant coach for the defensive staff, spending most of his time with UT's safeties. That proved to be an excellent match for the Vols, with Janzen Jackson earning a second-team All-SEC nod and Brent Brewer making great strides in his first season back from the professional baseball ranks.

"I think anytime you have walked in the same shoes as the players, there's a level of communication and understanding. You're asking them to do things you know can be done and if things are difficult, you understand the problems they're having. It's easier to relate to them."

Sirmon brought a wealth of experience and knowledge to the Vols. The seven-year NFL veteran spent 2009 as a graduate assistant at Oregon, his alma mater.

Oregon won the Pacific-10 Conference title that year and played in the Rose Bowl after compiling a 10-2 regular season mark. Sirmon's coaching input helped the Ducks lead the Pacific-10 Conference in sacks that season with nearly three per game.

Prior to a stint with the Ducks, Sirmon served as coach for the linebackers and kickoff coverage teams at Central Washington. It was his first coaching position since retiring from the NFL.

The Wildcats compiled a 10-1 regular season record that year and advanced to the NCAA Division II football playoffs.

Sirmon's playing days saw the Wenatchee, Wash., native selected by the Tennessee Titans in the fourth round of the 2000 NFL Draft. He spent his entire seven-year career playing linebacker in Nashville.

An All-Pac-10 performer, Sirmon was a four-year starter and letterwinner at Oregon from 1996-99. During his time in Eugene, Sirmon was a part of 30 Ducks' wins.

LANCE THOMPSON

Defensive Line

Lance Thompson arrived in Knoxville three years ago the owner of a championship pedigree. That mentality is building a foundation in the Tennessee defense and already paying dividends.

Thompson coached the UT linebackers during his first two seasons in Knoxville, guiding Nick Reveiz to a team-high 108 tackles last year. Reveiz also was a finalist for the Burlsworth Trophy, presented to a former walk-on having the biggest impact on his team.

Thompson, a Riverdale, Ga., native, helped mold national title-winners at Georgia Tech and LSU, and spent his two seasons before UT rejuvenating Alabama's fortunes toward the SEC elite as outside linebackers coach and recruiting specialist.

Thompson, 46, owns two separate coaching stints alongside Nick Saban, having originally worked for Saban and alongside Derek Dooley at LSU for the 2002-03 seasons before rejoining Saban at Alabama in 2007. Thompson served LSU as the assistant head coach in charge of recruiting and tight ends during their national championship season in 2003.

After his LSU tenure, Thompson spent three years as defensive coordinator at Central Florida. He previously served as Alabama's defensive line coach in 1999-2000. Prior to his first two-year stint at Alabama, Thompson was a part of the Georgia Tech staff for 11 years. During that time, Thompson held the position of Director of Football Operations from 1992-94.

Thompson got his start in coaching in 1988, serving as a graduate assistant for two years at Georgia Tech, followed by two more years as a volunteer assistant in 1990 and 1991.

Thompson was a four-year letterman at The Citadel, where he earned his bachelor's degree in education and mathematics in 1987.

He is the father of three daughters: Allie, Christina and Lane.

RON MCKEEFERY

Strength and Conditioning

Ron McKeefery joined Tennessee in January as football head strength and conditioning coach. The 2008 Under Armour Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year, McKeefery recently spent 11 seasons at South Florida, where he served as assistant athletic director for strength and conditioning and head strength and conditioning coach.

McKeefery's most recent role was as human performance coordinator for the U.S. Army Special Forces, 160th Special Operations Aviation Regiment, in Fort Campbell, Ky.

A key member of the South Florida coaching staff, McKeefery's tenure with the Bulls coincided with that program's rise from Div. I-AA to perennial Big East Conference contender. In addition to six consecutive bowl games and 16 NFL draft picks, the success of his strength and conditioning program is best exemplified by the fact that South Florida was 10-0 in overtime during his 11 seasons with the school.

After spending one season as a coach at Ottawa (Kan.) University, his alma mater, McKeefery worked as an intern with the Kansas City Royals. In the two years before going to South Florida, he worked with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers during the 1999 season, a year in which the Bucs played in the NFC Championship Game. McKeefery then spent the 2000 season as the head strength and conditioning coach with the Berlin Thunder of NFL Europe.

He is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist w/Distinction and Coach Practitioner under the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) as well as a Strength and Conditioning Coach Certified under the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCA). He also served as the state NSCA Director for Florida (North) and is certified by both the NSCA and the CSCCA.

The Missouri native owns a bachelor of arts in biology from Ottawa and a master of arts in adult education from South Florida. McKeefery earned all-conference honors in both football and track at Ottawa and was also a two-time Academic All-America.

David Blackburn continues to display his value and versatility to the University of Tennessee and currently serves as Senior Associate Athletics Director for Administration. Blackburn is involved in other administrative duties as assigned by Director of Athletics Mike Hamilton.

Blackburn, a 20-year veteran within the athletic department, has served in many capacities during his tenure, include assistant recruiting coordinator, director of recruiting compliance for all men's teams, director of football operations, assistant athletic director for development, and associate athletic director for football.

Blackburn has direct oversight of the football department, serving as the football sport administrator. In addition, he has also served as the sport administrator for both track and field and swimming and diving.

A Loudon native, Blackburn graduated from UT after serving two years as head football student manager and student assistant under head coach Johnny Majors. He joined UT Athletics in a full-time capacity in 1992 and has served in a number of roles, including five years as an assistant athletics director for football administration under head coach Philip Fulmer.

BRAD PENDERGRASS

Director of Football Operations

>> THE FACTS
- Born: June 25, 1976 (Oak Ridge)

Education
Huntingdon High School
University of Tennessee 1998
Master's, University of Tennessee 2001

Brad Pendergrass returned to Knoxville in 2010 as UT's director of football operations on head coach Derek Dooley's staff.

Pendergrass held the same position the previous year at Wisconsin after a five-year stint at Mississippi State. His first full-time position, however, was at Tennessee with his alma mater.

Pendergrass, 34, made the move to Wisconsin in 2009 as the Badgers' director of football operations and handled the team's administrative operations.

At Mississippi State, he spent his first three years as assistant to the head coach. Pendergrass was named coordinator of football operations in 2007, and then was promoted prior to the 2008 season to assistant AD for football operations.

Pendergrass spent 10 seasons with the Vols under former head coach Phillip Fulmer -- rising from student manager, to graduate assistant for the coaching staff, to graduate assistant in football operations and later to full-time recruiting assistant.

A native of Huntingdon, Pendergrass received his bachelor's degree in business/marketing from UT in 1998. He earned a master's in human performance and sports studies in 2001.

CHINO FONTENETTE

Graduate Assistant: Offense

Chino Fontenette enters his second season with the UT coaching staff as offensive graduate assistant after two years as running backs coach at Louisiana Tech.

Fontenette helped mold the 2008 Bulldogs ground game into the second-best unit in the WAC en route to the program's signature win at the Independence Bowl. And Tech tailback Daniel Porter finished his Bulldogs career with a school-record 3,352 yards.

Fontetette earned a double major from Tulane University in media arts and marketing in 2003 and was named to the Conference USA Commissioner's Honor Roll. As a player, from 1999-2003, Fontenette saw action at running back, wide receiver and quarterback for an 8-5 squad that won the Hawaii Bowl in 2002.

He also spent 2004-05 working as an ESPN production assistant, including assignments on the NFL Draft, Sunday Night Football, the Pro Bowl and the NBA Draft. He returned to coaching as a graduate assistant for Tulane under head coach Chris Scelfo in 2005.

SCHIRRA FIELDS

Graduate Assistant: Defense

Fields was a graduate assistant in 2010 and served as an intern for the Bulldogs strength and conditioning program the year before. Fields joined the Tech family after working at Tyler Junior College, coaching defensive backs.

The Haynesville, La. native was a walk-on wide receiver at LSU from 2002-05, during which time the Tigers won the 2003 national championship. Derek Dooley was a member of that coaching staff.

During his prep career, Fields played wide receiver and defensive back at Haynesville High School, helping the Tornados to the 2000 Class A title. He was named Louisiana's Class A State Defensive Player of the Year by the Louisiana Sports Writers Association.

He earned his bachelor's in kinesiology from LSU in 2006, and is pursuing a master's in sports psychology.

Assistant Director of Football Operations

>> THE FACTS
- Husband: Harry Ervin
- Children: Jasmine and Jada

Education
Sweetwater High School
Troy University 1999
Master's, Troy University 2001

Ervin's duties include assisting with all non-coaching aspects associated with football operations. This includes working with game management, coordinating player campus and off-campus housing needs and their summer employment, and working closely with the Thornton Center in managing academic demands.

In addition, Ervin serves as chief liaison to all of parent event functions as well as being routinely involved with official and unofficial recruiting visits. She also managed the Wolf-Kaplan Room pre-game and the Lauricella Center Lettermen's Room for post-game functions.

The Sweetwater native joined UT Athletics in September 2001 in an administrative support role with the football office.

Ervin holds both a bachelor's and master's degree in sports management from Troy University, where she played basketball and later served as a graduate assistant coach for two years.

KRIS ANN HAWKINS

Director of On Campus Recruiting

>> THE FACTS
- Husband: John Hawkins
- Children: Reagan and Haynes

Education
Morristown West High School
University of Tennessee 2001

Kris Ann Hawkins signed on to head coach Derek Dooley's football reorganization when she was named Director of On Campus Recruiting in 2010.

The Morristown native initiates the plans for all on-campus activities for both official and unofficial visits and helps with mailing campaigns and general recruiting office activities.

After graduating with an English degree from UT in 2001, Hawkins began her career working for her alma mater in the university's Upward Bound programs. In 2003, she moved to the admissions office at Middle Tennessee State, assisting with student tours on the Murfreesboro campus, before returning to UT's admission's office two years later.

That's when Hawkins, as Assistant Director of Admissions, began the Orange Pride program and maintained oversight as part of her campus recruitment activities. She also helped with general student recruiting at local high schools and assisted with event planning.

Hawkins and her husband, John, who is from Knoxville, are the parents of a daughter, Reagan, and a son, Haynes.

CONDREDGE HOLLOWAY

Assistant AD Player Relations

>> THE FACTS
- Born: Jan. 25, 1954 (Huntsville, Ala.)
- Wife: Courtney Holloway
- Children: Jasmine and Condredge III

Education
Lee High School
University of Tennessee 1991

College Football
Quarterback, Tennessee, 1971-74

Condredge Holloway is approaching his 14th year on the Tennessee staff and continues to serve as a vital link between the current Vols football staff and its storied history.

UT's Assistant Athletics Director for Student-Athlete Relations and Letterman also is one of the most celebrated players in school history. Recently, Holloway's amazing career was the subject of an ESPN documentary, "The Color Orange: The Condredge Holloway Story," produced by Kenny Chesney. It recounted the life and playing days of the SEC's first African-American starting quarterback.

Holloway, 57, primarily serves as the department's liaison with the Lettermen's Club, assisting with reunions and other projects. Holloway also is the point person for numerous issues surrounding the conduct of a major college football program. Holloway has taken great pride in helping former Vols find their niche in the business world by assisting them with contacts and employment opportunities following graduation.

Holloway, who also was an All-America shortstop for the Vols, left Knoxville and played 13 seasons in the Canadian Football League. He was league MVP in 1982. After his professional playing days ended, Holloway returned to UT and earned his degree.

Holloway is married to the former Courtney Haralson of Meigs County and is the father of Jasmine and Condredge III.

ANDRE LOTT

Vol for Life Coordinator

>> THE FACTS

- Wife: Jackie Lott
- Children: Ella Grace and Ana Lou

Education
Melrose High School
University of Tennessee 2000
Master's, Trevecca Nazarene University 2010

College Football
Defensive Back, Tennessee, 1998-2001

Head coach Derek Dooley took a giant step toward his reorganization of the Tennessee brand when he named former Vols defensive back Andre Lott to the position of Vol for Life (VFL) Coordinator.

The newly-created VFL is a comprehensive program for UT's football student-athletes that centers on four areas of personal growth: character education, life skills, career development and spiritual growth.

A former captain and four-year letterman from 1997-2001, Lott returns to Knoxville from West Tennessee where he was an assistant football coach, head track and field coach and Success Coordinator in the Hardin County school system. As Success Coordinator, Lott taught kids of all age groups real life skills, dealing in the Savannah community with such issues as broken families, drug use, bullying and teen pregnancy.

Lott was team captain in 2001 and served as a two-year member of the squad's Unity Council -- a liaison group between the football team and coaching staff under Lott's head coach, Phillip Fulmer. The All-SEC defensive back was drafted in the fifth round by the Washington Redskins and played five seasons in the NFL.

Lott, 31, hails from Memphis and is married to a Savannah native, the former Jackie Givens, who will be working in Knoxville as a nurse practitioner at East Tennessee Children's Hospital.

The couple has two daughters, Ella Grace and Ana Lou.

JASON MCVEIGH

Director of Sports Medicine

Jason McVeigh enters his sixth season as Director of Sports Medicine at Tennessee, and his 13th overall with the UT athletics department.

McVeigh has been a member of the UT Sports Medicine staff since 1999, when he joined the Vols as the Director of Rehabilitation. He gained his Athletic Trainer Certification in 2000, and was named Head Athletic Trainer after Keith Clements' departure in 2006.

Under McVeigh's supervision, the UT Sports Medicine department has added several key features to assist in the mission of providing world-class health care to all UT student-athletes.

McVeigh graduated Summa Cum Laude from UT in 1996 with a B.S. degree in Biology. He then went on to receive his master's degree in Physical Therapy from Duke University in 1999.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., McVeigh is married to the former Jennifer Bruorton of Marietta, Ga., and they are the parents of twins, Caitlin and Carson, and newborn daughter, Kennedy.

DR. CHRIS KLENCK

Team Physician

Dr. Chris Klenck, 39, came to Knoxville in November 2006 following a primary care sports medicine fellowship at Indiana University Medical Center. He had served the Indianapolis hospital since June 2001 in the positions of Internal Medicine/Pediatrics intern, resident and chief resident.

During fellowship training, Klenck was an assistant team physician for the Indianapolis Colts preseason training camps and assisted at Purdue University, his alma mater. He worked the NFL Scouting Combines in Indianapolis, has NCAA championships experience and served as a team physician in the Indiana high school ranks.

An Evansville, Ind., native, Klenck earned his doctor of pharmacy degree from Purdue before completing his doctor of medicine degree at Indiana University School of Medicine.

Klenck is married to the former Laura Botto of Dayton, Ohio. They are the parents of three children: Jacob, Ben and Ella.

ALLISON MAURER

Sports Nutritionist

Allison Maurer is one of only 17 full-time sports nutritionists at the NCAA Division I level and is responsible for all nutrition education with UT athletics. She conducts grocery-shopping tours for student-athletes, weight-gain and weight-loss programs and performance nutrition. She handles meal planning for football and assists with meal planning for other sports, works closely with Team ENHANCE and Team EXCEL and conducts body composition testing for men's athletics.

Maurer also teaches an undergraduate nutrition class, "Sports Nutrition for Athletes," while handling the orders and distribution of NCAA-compliant nutritional supplements for all UT sports.

The Holland, Mich., native began work at UT in October 2007 after three years at Colorado. Maurer earned her undergraduate degree in nutrition and dietetics from Olivet Nazarene University in 2002, and completed her master's from Georgia State University in 2003.

She and her husband, Dan, of Addison, Ill., are the parents of Manny and Emilio.

ROGER FRAZIER

Equipment Manager

Equipment Manager Roger Frazier is responsible for all football equipment issue and maintenance, in addition to handling the purchasing and inventory control of all football game and practice gear.

He also serves as president of the SEC Equipment Managers Association and assists in new product development with Adidas.

Currently in his 28th year as a full-time staffer with the Volunteers football program, the UT graduate began his career in 1978 as student manager before being named equipment manager in spring 1983.

The equipment room was renamed the Roger Frazier and Max Parrott Football Equipment Room, given in their honor by Gordon, Melissa and Hannah Summerfield, in January 2003.

Frazier graduated from Bradley Central High School in Cleveland and played football. He and his wife, Donna, have two children, Brandon and Barrett.

His primary responsibilities include compiling and editing game and practice tapes for coaching analysis, cataloging game tapes and producing "cut-ups."

STEVEN RUBIO

Director of Player Personnel

Steven Rubio is UT's Director of Player Personnel.

Rubio, 24, came to the Vols just before the 2009 season as a recruiting intern. Since his promotion, he now oversees all recruiting board material. Rubio handles the initial evaluation of high school and junior college prospects.

The Fort Lauderdale, Fla., native came to UT from his alma mater, the University of Central Florida, where he graduated with a sports administration degree in 2007. Rubio worked in various roles on the Knights football staff for six years.

SCOTT ALTIZER

Director of Football Relations

Altizer serves as liaison to the univesity's admissions and Thornton Center offices. He oversees the walk-on program and organizes and directs special events like the coaching clinic and summer camps.

The Morristown native graduated from Furman University, where he played baseball and had a brief professional career. He his wife, the former Sandy Apple of Nashville, are the parents of daughters Samantha and Sarah.

ADAM DICUS

Assistant to the Head Coach

His day-to-day duties at UT include research and special projects for the head coach and works with NFL scouts during their visits to Knoxville. Dicus got his start as an assistant to the director of football operations at SMU under head coach Phil Bennett. After majoring in economics at SMU, Dicus spent four years working in Dallas for a hedge fund before returning to football operations at Louisiana Tech.

MIKE HAMILTON

Director of Athletics

Born: Aug. 13, 1963, in Brevard, N.C.
High School Education: Brevard High School
Professional Career: NCNB Corp., Tampa, Fla., 1985-86; Clemson IPTAY Club, 1986-88; Assistant Director, Wake Forest Deacon Club, 1988-92; UT Assistant Athletics Director, Development, 1992-96; UT Associate Athletics Director, Development & Marketing, 1996-2002, UT Senior Associate Athletics Director, Development & Marketing, 2002-03; UT Director of Athletics, 2003-present.
Wife: Elizabeth (Beth) Merrill Hamilton.

During his tenure at the helm of the Volunteers athletic program, Mike Hamilton's visionary leadership has exemplified the "ideal of service" captured by the university's revered Torchbearer Statue.

Appointed to the position of director of athletics on 2003, Hamilton's stewardship of the Tennessee brand continues to ascend to unprecedented new heights. While Tennessee athletics continues to shine brightly as a national standard of intercollegiate achievement, Hamilton has assured that the athletic department's impact reaches far beyond the fields of competition.

In 2010-11, the benefits of Hamilton's fiscal oversight took the form of $10.3 million in direct cash support to the general UT Knoxville campus—the largest such contribution by athletics in university history. The UT athletics department remains one of only a handful nationwide that receives no funds from state subsidies or taxes.

Success on a national level has been a staple of Tennessee athletics, and under Hamilton's watch, this trend has continued. The Vols have placed in the top 16 in the NACDA Director's Cup six times in the last seven years, including two top-10 finishes.

The men's basketball program has reached new heights in recent years and reached the NCAA Elite Eight in 2010—the program's most successful season in 101 years. The basketball program also won the 2008 SEC Championship and achieved the program's first-ever No. 1 national ranking that same year. Additionally, men's tennis played for the national championship and finished second in the nation in 2010.

The competitive excellence exhibited by the Vols between the lines also has translated to the classroom, where in the spring of 2009, more than 51 percent of Tennessee's student-athletes earned a GPA of 3.0 or better.

The following academic accolades have been accomplished during Hamilton's tenure: 12 first-team Academic All-Americans, two SEC Scholar-Athletes of the Year, 404 student-athletes earning degrees, and a total of 1,052 student-athletes earning Academic All-SEC honors. In addition, 29 former Vols who left school to pursue professional athletic careers have returned to finish their degree requirements through the Renewing Academic Commitment (RAC) program administered by the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center.

Operating as the CEO of an organization with a $100-million-plus annual budget, Volunteer success during Hamilton's watch has not been limited to the athletic and academic arenas, as fundraising success has also been remarkable. Donations to UT athletics totaled $4 million when he arrived on Rocky Top in 1992. By the time he assumed the director of athletics position in 2003, that total had increased nearly 500 percent ($19.5 million). And by 2010, athletics development fundraising efforts had risen to $43.4 million, which is more than double the total when Hamilton assumed his current post.

In total, athletics has raised a total of $413 million since he joined the department in 1992. Moreover, the negative cash balance of $750,000 he inherited as an incoming AD has been remedied—using a zero-based budgeting model—to now reflect a reserve in excess of $9 million.

Additional financial highlights of Hamilton's tenure thus far include athletics endowments of $32 million, a multimedia rights partnership with IMG College worth a minimum of $133 million through 2022, two adidas sponsorship deals totaling more than $40 million and $230 million in new or renovated facilities since 2003.

Perhaps one of Hamilton's most ambitious undertakings—the Neyland Stadium Master Plan—is now 60 percent complete. The multi-phase renovation project has brought the addition of revenue-generating Tennessee Terrace and East and West Club seating areas, a field-level Lettermen's Room, facelifts to the exterior façade, west skyboxes and press box and a breathtaking majestic new stadium entrance via Gate 21. These upgrades have ensured that Neyland Stadium will remain the premier venue in college football for several decades to come.

Paying homage to the storied tradition of UT athletics has been a focus of Hamilton's, as in addition to jersey retirements of legendary performers in several Volunteer sports, there was a statue dedicated to Gen. Robert R. Neyland this fall outside the stadium that bears his name.

This record of financial and development success has paid dividends for all sports in the Tennessee athletics program, as in addition to the Neyland Stadium upgrades, there was a total renovation of Thompson-Boling Arena that transformed it into one of the premier venues in the nation. State-of-the-art facilities such as Lee Softball Stadium, Pratt Pavilion and Regal Soccer Stadium have been constructed, and there remains another $178 million worth of athletic construction projects still in the planning phases.

Dating to administrative posts in private business as well stops at Clemson and Wake Forest, Hamilton has been respected as an industry leader among his peers. He has served on the NCAA Academics, Eligibility and Compliance Cabinet, the NCAA Athletics Personnel Issues and Recruiting Cabinet, various NCAA Football Academic Working Groups, the SEC Advisory Board for Bowl Negotiations, the SEC Television and Media Rights Advisory Team and the SEC Digital Network Advisory Team.

Hamilton was also recently selected as the SEC's representative on the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association Board of Directors, and he is frequently called on to speak on national issues in intercollegiate athletics.

Also a beacon in local and regional charity efforts, along with his wife, Beth, Hamilton recently served as the chairman of the Knoxville Chamber Partnership and currently chairs the United Way Campaign. The Hamiltons have worked diligently to raise more than $550,000 for local adoption agencies as well as $300,000 to support charitable work in Africa through their Kalu Grace Foundation. The couple also hosts the successful Mike and Beth Hamilton Celebrity Golf Classic each year, benefiting Bethany Christian Services.

Hamilton serves as a board member of the Blood:Water Mission and the Both Ends Burning campaign and is also involved with the Crohn's/Colitis Foundation of America, Fellowship Church, Smoky Mountain Area Rescue Ministries, Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame and Adoption Advocates initiatives.

The Hamiltons reside in Knoxville and have three sons—Matthew, Nate and Kiya—and two daughters—Madison and Kalu.

DR. JIMMY CHEEK

UT Knoxville Chancellor

Dr. Jimmy G. Cheek became the seventh chancellor of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, on Feb. 1, 2009.

Through his leadership, the campus is focused on improving the student's educational experience, enhancing faculty research and scholarship as well as outreach and service. A first-generation college student, Dr. Cheek has set in motion several initiatives to broaden UT Knoxville's diversity and student access to the university.

As the state's flagship research campus, UT Knoxville is currently ranked as a Top 50 public institution. In early 2010, the campus launched its quest to become one of the Top 25 research universities in the nation.

Dr. Cheek chairs the Board of the International Fertilizer Development Center Advisory Committee, a new global research effort to develop and commercialize clean, environmentally sustainable, cost-effective and renewable fertilizers for the developing world. He is on the Presidential Advisory Committee on Energy for the Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities. He is also a member of the 2011 Leadership Knoxville class and serves on the UT-Battelle Board of Governors, the UT Health Sciences Center Board of Directors, the Tennessee Higher Education Commission Master Plan Steering Committee and the UT Athletics Board of Directors.

Prior to his UT appointment, Dr. Cheek was a member of the faculty and an administrator at the University of Florida for 34 years, last serving as senior vice president of agricultural and natural resources.

While at Florida, he received the President's Medallion and Student Body Resolution 2009-104 for dedicated and loyal service to the university and outstanding service to students, respectively, and the Morton Wolfson Faculty Award for outstanding contributions to the quality of student life. He was named to the Academy of Teaching Excellence in 2008, a Fellow of the American Association for Agricultural Education in 2005, and a Fellow of the North American Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture in 1998. His research has focused on the influence of experiential learning on student achievement and educational accountability. He has authored more than 80 journal articles and reports and is the senior author of a book.

Dr. Cheek earned his bachelor's degree with high honors and his doctorate from Texas A&M University. He received his master's degree from Lamar University. A native of Texas, he is married to Ileen, and they have two children and two grandchildren.

Vols never 'flinched' in November run to Music City Bowl

Young Roster Quickly Gains Experience by Season's End

BY JOSH PATE
UTSports.com

Halfway through the 2010 football season and his University of Tennessee Volunteers sitting with a 2-6 record, the men wearing orange heard their critics talk of how this could be the worst Tennessee football team in years … perhaps ever. There were the difficult times against highly touted opponents Oregon and Florida, and a nailbiting, two-overtime victory to beat UAB. Then there was the winless October, which began with a heartbreaking loss at LSU and ended in three conference thumpings. Dooley and his players heard the doubters. And they answered.

"Sitting there at 2-6 and people talking about us being the worst football team in Tennessee history, and nobody in this organization flinched," Tennessee's first-year head coach said. "I'm real proud of them for that."

Dooley has a reason to be proud. After a September and October in which the Vols faced five opponents ranked inside the top 20, UT turned things around and won four consecutive games to close out the regular season with a 6-6 (3-5 Southeastern Conference) record to become bowl eligible for the second season in a row and 49th time in school history. Tennessee lost a heartbreaker to North Carolina in the Music City Bowl, but the season was an improbable turnaround nonetheless.

"We never got affected by the results," Dooley said. "Everybody in the organization improved over the course of the season, and that's all you can ask for."

Perhaps nobody improved more than freshman quarterback Tyler Bray. He came off the bench against South Carolina and, despite throwing an interception on his first pass, provided a spark in the Tennessee offense with a pair of touchdowns. He had some help as senior wide receiver Denarius Moore exploded for a career-high 228 yards receiving and brought the Vols to a fourth quarter tie with the Gamecocks.

■ Sophomore safety Janzen Jackson helped anchor the Vols' secondary in 2010. He finished the season with 69 tackles and five interceptions, earning second-team All-SEC honors from the league coaches. He had a career-best 11 tackles in the finale against Kentucky.

But things fell apart when South Carolina superstar Alshon Jeffrey caught a 70-yard touchdown pass to break the tie and help the Gamecocks pull away for the 38-24 victory over the Vols. It was Tennessee's sixth loss of the season.

At that moment, it was gut-check time. Nobody outside the locker room was talking about a bowl game; they were talking about long-term stability. Inside the locker room, however, the talk was about fixing what was broken – and fixing it immediately.

"Any other team, period, could just hang their heads and quit after going 2-6 and losing for 40 days straight," said senior receiver Gerald Jones. "This young team didn't, which is very exciting to see and great for the future. We kept fighting and turned this season around and got ourselves a bowl game to go to."

That's thanks to an explosive November.

A week after the South Carolina loss, Bray earned his first start at Memphis and responded with 325 yards and five touchdowns in a 50-14 romp over the Tigers. Then the Vols dominated Ole Miss for a surprising 52-14 Homecoming victory at Neyland Stadium, UT's first conference win of the season. A hard-fought 24-10 win at Vanderbilt left it all hanging on a streak that pre-dates anybody on the roster.

Tennessee's chances of going to a bowl game and getting its record to .500 sat on extending a 25-game winning streak over Kentucky. Again, Bray stepped up with a 354-yard, two touchdown performance. But the seniors shined most.

Nick Reveiz recovered a critical Kentucky fumble that shifted the momentum in Tennessee's favor. The Wildcats were leading 7-0 and ready to claw once again from the 1-yard line. UK's Derrick Locke fumbled the football into the checkerboard, and Reveiz pounced on it, making up for a painful personal foul penalty that had put Kentucky in position to score. Thwarting a potential 14-0 deficit, the Vols rallied back and did so quickly. Bray used just four passes to hit Jones for the game-tying touchdown. On the next drive, Bray hit Moore on a 49-yard pass and then connected with him again for a 12-yard touchdown and the lead. Moore finished with 205 yards receiving – mostly on deep passes from Bray – to record his second 200-yard game of the year and become the only UT player to boast that accomplishment. When the horn blew, the Vols won 24-14, kept the streak alive at 26 games, and did the improbable considering the start to the season by securing a bowl bid.

For this group to lead the rebound the way it did and head to Tennessee's second consecutive bowl game is evidence of the group's character. However, by no means was the path as simple as it seems.

The Vols dominated undermatched Tennessee-Martin 50-0 in the season opener. It was the first shutout victory for UT since 2003, and the Vols scored on the ground with 110 yards by Tauren Poole, through the air, via safety and from two Daniel Lincoln field goals. The only loss that day was when Jones broke his hand, which would keep him out for four weeks.

The following two weeks weren't pleasant.

Tennessee took an early 13-3 lead on Oregon when lightning struck the area, halting the game for an hour while a heavy downpour drenched the field. Afterward, things were different. Poole got in a terrific performance with 162 yards, but his stats were nowhere near enough. The Ducks reeled off 45 unanswered points and LaMichael James ran for 134 yards to give Oregon the 48-13 victory.

The Florida game was eerily similar as Tennessee tied the game 10-10 with 8:59 left in the third quarter when quarterback Matt Simms connected with Moore for 49 yards and a score. Florida struggled to move the football and was ready to punt, but a fake on fourth-and-6 resulted in a 36-yard gain and ultimately a 7-yard touchdown pass from John Brantley to Frankie Hammond.

Shortly thereafter, Simms was intercepted and Florida converted it into another touchdown. Justin Hunter scored for the Vols to cut the deficit to 24-17 early in the fourth quarter, but the Gators responded with a touchdown run with 6:15 remaining to seal it at 31-17.

Sitting at 1-2, UAB came to town in what was supposed to be a breather for Tennessee. It wasn't. Again, the second half was not kind to the Vols. They built a 23-7 halftime lead before UAB bounced back with a pair of touchdowns and 2-point conversions to send the game into overtime. The teams traded field goals in the first extra period. UAB struck first with a field goal in the second overtime, so Tennessee went for gold on the first play of its possession. Simms hit Moore for the 25-yard winning touchdown that put the orange-clad men in the winning column 32-29.

The positive was Tennessee evened its record at 2-2. The negative was October awaited.

Perhaps none was more painful than the afternoon in Baton Rouge. Tennessee began celebrating what appeared to be an upset victory over No. 12 LSU as the Tigers saw a bad snap end with zeroes showing on the game clock and the Vols leading 14-10.

Players ran onto the field, coaches headed toward each other to shake hands, and television began showing the final score. But officials ruled that Tennessee had too many players on the field, and LSU was awarded another play from the 1-yard line. That's when Stevan Ridley pushed into the end zone with no time left to win the game for LSU 16-14.

If that wasn't enough, Tennessee then suffered back-to-back losses to chief rivals Georgia (41-14) and Alabama (41-10), both heralded for matching Dooley with his past through family and mentors. The South Carolina loss capped the winless October and left the Vols at 2-6.

Yet there was no white flag. In fact, it was just the opposite. The locker room mentality strengthened. Players understood the challenge they faced, and they answered the bell.

The challenge has left the Vols here, with one game remaining and another chance for the squad to prove its character and determination. Considering what this team has gone through – this year and in the recent past – those chances are nothing new.

"It's hard to describe how proud I am of this football team," Dooley said. "All the stuff that's happened to these guys, these were the few that stuck with it and loved Tennessee. They didn't care what happened. They believed in Tennessee. They got rewarded for sticking to it."

NEYLAND STADIUM RENOVATION

One of the stars of last season certainly was Neyland Stadium and the unveiling of the latest renovations to Tennessee's grand palace.

Most noticeable from the outside were the approximately 700,000 bricks that totally transformed the look of the stadium's north and west sides. Standing in the middle of that transformation is the majestic Gate 21 plaza area.

Six lofty archways dominate the entrance, which doubles during the work week as a key campus transportation hub. No doubt the traffic on game days is just as hectic.

>> Aesthetics Inside and Out

Adjacent to the Gate 21 plaza was another change, the new amphitheater at the corner of Phillip Fulmer Way and Andy Holt Avenue. The Vol Network's Kickoff Call-In Show takes place there, sporting spiffy new digs after spending years on a make-shift platform in front of a worn down hillside.

Just inside Gate 21, the Tennessee Official Team Shop is open for business six days a week under management of the UT Bookstore.

The Tennessee Terrace now occupies the west upper deck, with 1,800 individual chair-back seats and a climate-controlled concourse featuring new restroom and concession areas. Those individuals also had the added bonus of sitting on the home sideline after the Vols switched back to the west for the first time since 1992.

Amazing Graphics: Graphics were upgraded throughout the west-side renovation areas, including both elevator lobbies and certainly in the Tennessee Terrace, which can be seen from street-level and are especially dynamic at night.

The historic Neyland Stadium Master Plan renovations have been funded entirely by private donations to the project and have not created a financial burden for the university or the state's tax payers. The funding includes leadership gifts to the project and capital and annual contributions associated with the East Club, West Club and Tennessee Terrace seating areas. To date, the university has spent approximately $125 million on the project.

Through the capital and annual donations associated with their seats, donors sitting in Tennessee Terrace have provided approximately $42 million in funding for the Master Plan renovations.

Future phases of the Master Plan renovations will be completed based on available funding.

Construction Break for Two Years: Plans call for stadium renovations to take a break over the next two years and resume in December 2012. That should allow for a more normal maintenance schedule, including structural painting projects on the stadium's exterior that are first in line for 2011.

Design work throughout the entire Master Plan renovations was by McCarty Holsaple McCarty Architects/Ross Bryan Associates. Contractor for this portion of the project was Blaine Construction.

>> Unveiling the Neyland Statue

Honoring the man most responsible for the growth and development of the proud Volunteer football tradition, the University of Tennessee today dedicated a statue of General Robert R. Neyland outside the stadium that bears his name.

The dedication ceremony was held at the permanent location of the statue, between gates 15A and 17 on the west side of Neyland Stadium. All former Tennessee football lettermen were invited to the event, including Hank Lauricella, who played on the 1951 national championship team and spoke on behalf of all former players. Mike Hamilton, director of athletics at Tennessee, and current Vols head football coach Derek Dooley were also in attendance, as well as several members of the Neyland family, including his son, Bob Neyland, Jr., who spoke at the event.

The statue, which was commissioned by artist Blair Buswell, is twice life-size. Since Neyland is portrayed in the kneeling position rather than standing, the statue is nine feet tall (a standing statue would have stood 12 feet tall). The statue weighs approximately 1,500 pounds, and the base is 57" by 87" and features the seven Game Maxims engraved into the precast. Buswell is based in Salt Lake City, Utah, and also is responsible for sculpting the busts for the Pro Football Hall of Fame incoming class each year.

2010 >> SEASON NOTEBOOK

FOR STARTERS >>

4	Consecutive games the Vols won in November to finish the season and earn bowl eligibility. The winning streak is the longest by the Vols since 2007.
49	Bowl appearances for the Vols, including this year's Franklin American Mortgage Company Music City Bowl. Tennessee is tied with Texas for the second-most bowl appearances in the FBS.
16	True freshmen played for the Vols last season, tied for third most in Division I. Seven true freshmen started in the Vols' 50-14 victory at Memphis.
3	Times the Vols' recorded 50 or more points, scoring 50 against UT Martin and Memphis and 52 against Mississippi. It was the fourth time in the modern era the Vols have recorded at least three 50-point games in a year.
19	Final national ranking for the Vols in interceptions in 2010. The Vols picked off 18 passes, with four players recording multiple interceptions.

VOLS MAKE POSTSEASON

>> Music City Recap

■ The Vols made their inaugural appearance in a particular bowl for the first time since 1993, when Tennessee made its first trip to the Outback/Hall of Fame Bowl...all bowl appearances since then had represented repeat trips.

■ UT fell to 8-7 in all-time first bowl appearances, dropping a 30-27 decision in double-overtime to North Carolina. The Vols have lost three of four inaugural selections in particular bowls, winning the 1993 Hall of Fame Bowl (d. Boston College, 38-23) and losing the Fiesta Bowl in 1992 (L. Penn State, 17-42) and the Sun Bowl in 1984 (L. Maryland, 27-28).

■ UT's 27 points scored were its most in a bowl since putting up 38 vs. Texas A&M in the 2005 Cotton Bowl.

■ Head coach Derek Dooley is just the fifth Tennessee coach to lead a team to a bowl game in his first season...dating to 1939 and UT's first bowl game, the Vols have had 11 head coaches...in 1939, General Robert R. Neyland led the Vols to a 17-0 win over Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl...Tennessee head coaches are 5-4 all-time in their first bowl game with the Vols.

■ The loss snapped a 15 game winning streak by Tennessee in the city of Nashville since 1984.

■ Tennessee is 25-24 all-time in bowl games.

>> November Remembered

■ The Vols allowed only 52 points in November, an average of 13.0 points per game...the 52 points were the fewest allowed by Tennessee in any month since allowing 40 in five November games in 2003...Tennessee allowed 14 points at Memphis, vs. Ole Miss, and vs. Kentucky, and 10 at Vanderbilt.

■ During the last 11 seasons since 2000, the Vols are 37-9 in November (.803)...UT has won 15 of its last 18 games during the month since a 39-10 win at Vanderbilt on Nov. 18, 2006.

■ Tennessee is 74-12 (.860) in November in the last 21 seasons since 1990, including an astounding 37-3 (.925) record in regular-season games in November or later during the decade of the 1990s.

■ The Vols were 51-3 (.944) in November from 1991-2003 and are 19-8 (.703) during the month since 2004...UT won 21 consecutive November games between 1990-96.

ALL-AMERICA & CONFERENCE HONORS

SPOTLIGHT ON:

■ In his first year in a starting role, sophomore defensive back Prentiss Waggner returned three interceptions for touchdowns to set the UT season record.

>> Vols Earn All-SEC Honors

▪ Two Vols also earned Associated Press All-SEC honors this season: junior defensive lineman Malik Jackson and sophomore defensive back Prentiss Waggner...the AP squad also named junior RB Tauren Poole as honorable mention All-SEC.

>> Freshman Honorees

▪ Center James Stone was named to The Sporting News and Football Writers Association of America Freshman All-America Teams.

>> SEC Players of the Week

▪ Tyler Bray, QB
SEC Freshman of the Week (Nov. 6 vs. Memphis)
SEC Freshman of the Week (Nov. 13 vs. Miss.)
SEC Freshman of the Week (Nov. 27 vs. Kentucky)

▪ Gerald Williams, DE

>> Pass-Catching Prowess

▪ Tennessee receivers enjoyed a productive 2010 season, led by senior receivers Gerald Jones and Denarius Moore and senior tight end Luke Stocker... freshman wideout Justin Hunter also produced a record-setting campaign with seven receiving touchdowns, a UT freshman record.

▪ Senior standouts Jones (55), Moore (47), and Stocker (39) combined for 59.2% of the team's receptions in 2010 (141 of 238).

NOTING THE DEFENSE

>> Forcing Turnovers

▪ The Vols forced at least four turnovers in three different games for the first time since 1999...UT forced four turnovers at LSU and five both at Memphis and vs. Ole Miss.

▪ Tennessee's 27 turnovers (18 INTs, 9 FRs) were its most in a single season since forcing 28 (16 INTs, 12 FRs) in 2004...the Vols notched multiple turnovers in four consecutive games (its four games in Nov.) for the first time since 2005 (Alabama-Memphis)...the 18 INTs were the most since collecting 21 in 1999 and the Vols' five games with multiple picks were also the most since the 2008 season.

▪ The Vols sacked the quarterback multiple times in eight different games for the first time since also doing so on eight occasions in 2005...Tennessee also totaled multiple sacks in six consecutive games for the first time since the last six games of 2005.

>> The Defense Never Rests

▪ Tennessee's defense allowed 14 or fewer points in each of their four November games...the Vols allowed 14 points to Memphis, Mississippi, and Kentucky while allowing only 10 at Vanderbilt...the Vols were +9 in best turnover margin per game in November, best in the SEC during the month.

■ Turnover Margin Leaders, Nov., NCAA FBS

Team	Turnover Margin
Wisconsin	+13
Virginia Tech	+12
TENNESSEE	+9
Stanford	+9

▪ UT limited opponents to under 250 yards passing in four of the last six games and to 275 or fewer yards passing in eight of the last nine games.

▪ After recording only 10 sacks in the first eight games, the Vols tallied 16 sacks in the last five contests...Tennessee had two-plus sacks in the final six consecutive games and at least six tackles for loss in four of the last five contests.

▪ The Vols' scoring defense average of 13.0 points per game in November ranked eighth in the nation and first in the SEC.

■ Scoring Defense Leaders, Nov., NCAA FBS

>> 300-Yard Passer

■ One of only three quarterbacks in the SEC (Ryan Mallett, Arkansas; Mike Hartline, Kentucky) to record as many as four 300-yard passing games, Tyler Bray threw for a career-high 354 yards in the regular season finale vs. Kentucky...he also crossed the 300-yard barrier in his first career start, at Memphis (325 yards), the following week vs. Ole Miss (323 yards) and against North Carolina in the Music City Bowl (312 yards).

■ Most 300-Yard Passing Games, SEC, 2010

Player	300-Yard Passing Games
Ryan Mallett, Arkansas	9
TYLER BRAY, TENNESSEE	4
Mike Hartline, Kentucky	3

■ Bray is the first Tennessee quarterback to throw for 300+ yards in his first two career starts and the first Vols QB overall to throw for 300+ yards in consecutive starts since Casey Clausen did so in 2001.

■ At Memphis, Bray threw for 308 yards and five touchdowns in the first half, both Tennessee records for a single half.

■ Following an interception returned for a touchdown at South Carolina, Bray threw a UT freshman-record 96 consecutive passes without an interception until throwing a 2nd-quarter pick at Vanderbilt.

■ In those 96 consecutive passes between INT's between the South Carolina and Vanderbilt games, Bray was 58-of-96 for 980 yards and 12 touchdowns (10.8 yards per att., pass efficiency rating: 187.42).

■ The Vols averaged 199.6 yards passing in the first seven games, a figure that increased to 318.7 yds./gm. over the last six.

>> Record Half

■ Bray's 308 yards and five TD's passing in the first half at Memphis are UT records for a single half.

>> Clockwork

■ Bray led 27 scoring drives...average time of possession was 2:10...14 of 27 drives took less than two minutes, 12 of which ended in TDs...additionally, 14 of 27 drives took five plays or less, all ending in TDs...on scoring drives that covered 70 yards or more, average T.O.P. was 2:27.

>> In The Zone

■ When Bray started, the Vols scored on 16 of their 19 red zone trips (.842 success rate), including 11 TDs.

JUSTIN HUNTER

>> Big Game Hunter

■ Freshman All-SEC WR Justin Hunter ranked second on the team with seven touchdown receptions, including a stretch of TD catches in three consecutive games (Memphis, Ole Miss, Vanderbilt)...seven TDs ranked tied for first among all Division I freshman wideouts.

■ Hunter, who averaged a remarkable 25.9 yards per catch, set a Tennessee freshman school record with seven touchdown catches in 2010...the previous mark of five was shared by Joey Kent (1993) and Kelley Washington (2001)...Hunter ranked third on the team with 417 receiving yards (on 16 catches).

■ Four of Hunter's seven TD receptions were from 30+ yards (80 vs. Ole Miss, 42 vs. Memphis, 38 vs. Georgia, 35 vs. Florida)...Hunter also had two 100-yard receiving games in 2010, and his 100-yard effort vs. Georgia was the first for a UT freshman since Robert Meachem's 147-yard game vs. Kentucky in 2004.

GERALD JONES

>> On the Career Charts

■ WR Gerald Jones caught at least four passes in his last seven consecutive games, including five or more in six of those games...Jones set his career high with 46 receptions this season, totaling 596 receiving yards and four touchdowns.

■ The senior receiver had 43 catches in his last seven games and finished his career 5th place on the Tennessee career list with 142:

■ Most Career Receptions, Tennessee History

Player	Rec.	Years
4. Peerless Price	147	1995-98
5. GERALD JONES	142	2007-10
6. Jayson Swain	126	2003-06

■ Jones also finished his career ranked fourth among all active SEC receivers in career receptions:

■ Most Career Receptions, Active SEC Receivers

Player	Rec.	Years
Julio Jones, Alabama	179	2008-10
A.J. Green, Georgia	166	2008-10
Randall Cobb, Kentucky	144	2008-10
GERALD JONES, TENNESSEE	142	2007-10

■ Jones became just the fifth wide receiver in UT history to lead the Vols in receptions in three consecutive seasons and the first since Joey Kent from 1994-96...Jones led Tennessee with 30 catches in 2008 and 46 receptions in 2009, while finishing 2010 with 55...the other three Vols to lead the team in catches three years in a row are Thomas Woods (1987-89), Anthony Hancock (1979-81) and Larry Seivers (1974-76).

DENARIUS MOORE

>> Dominant Denarius

■ Denarius Moore led the team with 981 yards receiving in 2010, the seventh-highest total in school history...Moore caught 29 passes for 724 yards and five TD's in his last six games and finished with 47 receptions during the regular season.

Player	Year	Yards
5. Kelley Washington	2001	1,010
6. Lucas Taylor	2007	1,000
7. DENARIUS MOORE	2010	981

■ Moore's consecutive 100-yard receiving games (228 at South Carolina, 103 at Memphis) were the first for a Tennessee receiver since Lucas Taylor in 2007 (103 vs. Cal; 118 vs. Southern Miss).

>> 228 Yards: In Perspective

■ The 228-yard effort from Moore against South Carolina was the fifth-highest single-game total in NCAA Division I FBS this season

■ His school-record 38.0 yards per catch in that game is also a Tennessee record and tied for 6th in SEC history (most in the league since 2004, Troy Williamson, South Carolina, 42.0 ypc)...additionally, his 205-yard day against Kentucky was the 16th-highest total in Division I FBS in 2010.

■ Moore's 228 receiving yards were also the most in an SEC game in 2010 and the 9th-most all-time by an SEC player (4th-most since 2001)

■ It is also the most by a conference player in eight years: Florida's Taylor Jacobs posted 246 yards receiving vs. UAB in 2002.

MALIK JACKSON

>> Action Jackson/Defensive Line

■ Second-team AP AII-SEC DT Malik Jackson ranked second on the Vols with 5.0 sacks in 2010, including sacks in four of the last six games.Jackson also had a team-high 11 tackles for loss, including 9.5 in the four November games and at least a half-TFL in five of the last six games...he ranked 15th in the SEC in sacks this season and tied for 11th in tackles for loss.

■ Jackson, a transfer from USC, played his first five games at defensive end before switching to defensive tackle at Georgia for the final eight...in those eight games at tackle, he recorded 36 of his 48 tackles, 10 of 11 tackles for loss, all five sacks, three of his five QB hurries, four of his five passes defended, and his lone interception of 2010.

■ The Tennessee defensive line recorded 21.5 sacks, eclipsing the 2009 defensive-line total of 15.5.

DANIEL LINCOLN

>> Long Drive Lincoln

■ Senior Daniel Lincoln broke his own school record by making nine consecutive field goals to begin the 2010 season...he previously made eight consecutive field goals to begin his All-America year of 2007... Lincoln missed his first attempt of the Kentucky game, his only miss of the season...he finished 10-of-11 (.909) in field goal attempts this season, including 5-of-5 from 40 yards and beyond...his overall FG percentage of .909 is the second best mark in school history... ranks seventh in career field goal percentage all-time (.689)...Lincoln finished his career sixth on the Vols' career field goal list, one shy of tying John Becksvoort (1991-94) for fifth.

PRENTISS WAGGNER

>> Record Setter

■ DB Prentiss Waggner intercepted passes in the last three regular-season games and tied Janzen Jackson with a team-high five this season...his five picks this season ranked tied for third in the SEC and tied for 15th in the nation.

■ Waggner also recovered three fumbles this season, giving him eight takeaways in 2010, the most for any Vol defender since Deon Grant recorded nine (9 INTs) in 1999...Waggner's five interceptions are also the most for a Tennessee player since Eric Berry's seven in 2008.

■ A sophomore from Clinton, La., Waggner set a Tennessee season record with his third interception returned for a touchdown in the Ole Miss game (10 yards)...the previous record was two, accomplished six times (most recent: Eric Berry, 2008)...he also returned interceptions for touchdowns vs. both UT Martin and UAB.

■ His three INTs returned for touchdowns led both the nation and the SEC.

■ Waggner's three fumble recoveries tied LSU's Tyrann Mathieu for the SEC lead and tied for the seventh-best mark nationally.

MORE NOTES

>> Playing the Best

■ The Vols played five teams ranked in the Top 20 at the time of the matchup: Oregon (7 and 8), Florida (10 and 7), LSU (12 and 10) Alabama (7th in both) and South Carolina (17th in both).

■ The Vols have lost six consecutive games vs. ranked teams since a 31-13 win over then 21st-ranked South Carolina on Oct. 31, 2009...however, the Vols are 10-4 in their last 14 games vs. unranked opponents since.

>> Huge Neyland Crowds Continue

■ A total of 698,465 fans attended the Vols' seven home games at Neyland Stadium, the 6th-highest total nationally...UT has ranked in the top six for 35 consecutive years...the Vols averaged 99,781 fans per game this season, also sixth-best in the nation and also second in the SEC.

■ NCAA Total Attendance Leaders, 2010

>> The Graduates

■ A total of 11 Tennessee Vols who have earned college degrees participated in the Music City Bowl...nine Vols suited up this season as graduates of Tennessee.

■ Chad Cunningham, Daniel Lincoln, Cody Pope, Nick Reveiz, Jarrod Shaw, Luke Stocker, Victor Thomas, LaMarcus Thompson and Tyler Wolf all earned their college degrees before the 2010 football season.

■ Ben Martin and Chris Walker graduated in December, increasing the number of graduates on the Tennessee active roster to 11. A total of 30 UT men's and women's athletes walked the stage.

■ During the season, the nine active graduates ranked Tennessee third in the nation behind Boston College (14) and Auburn (11).

>> Free Football

■ UT played extra periods against UAB and North Carolina to bring its record to 9-3 all-time in overtime games ... The UNC contest marked UT's first overtime affair in a bowl game. UT's pair of overtime contests in 2010 tied for the most the Vols have played in one season. In 2003, the Vols defeated South Carolina, 23-20 (OT) and Alabama, 51-43 (5OT).

Vols pitch first shutout since 2003, blank cross-state Skyhawks in opener

Tauren Poole had touchdown runs of 24 yards and 14 yards as Tennessee beat UT Martin 50-0 for Derek Dooley's first victory as the Volunteers' coach.

It was Tennessee's first shutout since a 48-0 win over Vanderbilt in 2003 and first time facing an FCS opponent since a win over The Citadel in 1983.

Tauren Poole had been waiting for his chance to shine and he delivered, darting through holes, running around coverage and picking up 110 yards on 17 carries before sitting out the fourth quarter.

"The backs ran well; the line blocked well," Dooley said. "They were packing them in and trying to stop the run, but we did a nice job up front. The runners ran hard and I think we just wore them down a bit."

David Oku had his share of carries too and found some large holes for a 44-yard touchdown run with 5:00 left in the first quarter to give the Vols a 10-0 lead in the season opener for both teams.

Tennessee scored nearly every way it could. Austin Johnson and Greg King tackled D.J. McNeil in the end zone for a safety. Prentiss Wagner intercepted Derek Carr and ran 54 yards for a touchdown. Daniel Lincoln kicked field goals of 21 and 35 yards.

"I was real proud of how we came out in the third quarter too," Dooley said. "We weren't relaxed or complacent. Overall, it was a good, solid win."

UT Martin's young, inexperienced offense couldn't find any rhythm. The Skyhawks neither completed a pass nor picked up a first down in the first quarter but were flagged for delay of game four times.

By the end of the game, they had 142 yards on offense compared to Tennessee's 537. The Vols shut out an opponent for the first time since Nov. 22, 2003, then they blanked Vanderbilt at home, 48-0.

"The defense was aggressive," Dooley said. "We tackled well, and those are the basics you worry about in the first game."

Carr finished 9-for-22 for 66 yards and threw two interceptions. The Skyhawks were penalized 11 times for 83 yards.

"The last time I played linebacker in a real game would be my senior year in high school," Johnson said. "It felt good to be back out there and playing linebacker. Before the game I was really going over my playbook trying to get all the stuff down I needed. Once I got out there it just kind of came to be and I was able to play fast."

Matt Simms completed 14 of 24 passes for 181 yards and the touchdown to Moore in his first Vols start.

THE WRAPUP

- Derek Dooley became the 18th of 22 UT head coaches to win his inaugural game.
- Ten Vols started for the first time -- six on offense and four on defense.
- Tennessee's defense limited UT Martin to just three first downs, including one in the first half.
- Ja'Wuan James, who started at right tackle, was one of 12 true freshmen to see action for the Vols.
- UT finished the game with 332 yards rushing and 205 passing.
- Redshirt freshman Joseph Ayres saw action at defensive tackle. Ayres is the great-great-grandson of Brown Ayres, who served as UT's 12th president from 1904-19 and for whom Ayres Hall is named.

LaMichael James ran for 134 yards, including a 72-yard touchdown to open the second half, and the Ducks scored 45 consecutive points to beat Tennessee 48-13.

The Vols were on the board first with a pair of Daniel Lincoln field goals before a thunderstorm roared through Knoxville, halting the game for 70 minutes. The delay didn't seem to affect UT as the Big Orange defense held Oregon to a field goal and then scored the game's first touchdown, a 1-yard plunge by Tauren Poole that made it 13-3.

"I was proud of how we came out and competed early in the game," UT head coach Derek Dooley said. "We screwed up the last three minutes of the half in all phases. So we go in halftime tied, which was fine. But we didn't have a good look in our eye at halftime."

James had only 27 yards at the break after being targeted by the Volunteers' defense for the entire first half. But he broke several tackles on the 72-yard touchdown run that vaulted Oregon into the lead for good. The Vols then seemed to fall apart.

"You would have thought we were down 40," Dooley said. "We hit some bad adversity in the third quarter and we didn't handle it well."

The Vols were penalized for having an ineligible receiver on one play and a false start on another. A pass by Matt Simms intended for Zach Rogers was cleanly picked off by Cliff Harris, who returned it 76-yards for another score to give Oregon a 27-13 lead with 6:27 left in the third quarter.

Kenjon Barner, who scored five TDs filling in for James as the Ducks' No. 1 tailback in a 72-0 win against New Mexico in Week 1, took a punt back 80 yards for a touchdown that made it 41-13 with 11:39 left.

The Ducks struggled to find a first-half answer for Poole, who had 111 yards rushing in the first quarter. He finished with 162 yards on 23 carries.

"He was great and we needed him to be," Dooley said. "He ran hard. We caught them in some pretty good looks and they made adjustments."

Oregon quarterback Darron Thomas completed 17 of 32 for 202 yards and two touchdowns. The Ducks picked up 447 yards of offense compared to the Vols' 333 yards, despite holding the ball three fewer minutes than Tennessee.

The officials halted play with 8:53 remaining in the first quarter after Lincoln's second field goal when lightning was spotted in the area. The teams spent an hour in their locker rooms as heavy rain and lightning hovered over Neyland Stadium, and many of the capacity crowd of 102,035 fans huddled under overhangs and crowded the concourses.

THE WRAPUP

- Tennessee's top four tacklers in the game all recorded career highs: Nick Reveiz (10), Chris Walker (8), Gerald Williams (7) and Prentiss Waggner (7).
- Sophomore Marsalis Teague made his first defensive start at cornerback. Teague started five games at wide receiver in 2009.
- The last time Tennessee was involved in a weather delay was at Arkansas in 2001, a game the Vols won 13-3.
- The 35-point margin was Tennessee's worst loss in Neyland Stadium history, topping the 33-0 defeat to VMI on Nov. 17, 1923.

But Florida used a nine-play drive capped by a 2-yard touchdown run from Trey Burton to seal a 31-17 victory at Neyland Stadium.

Tennessee tied the game at 10 with a 49-yard touchdown pass from Matt Simms to Denarius Moore with 8:59 in the third quarter. Simms completed 19 of 31 for two touchdowns.

Florida stalled on the next drive until Gators coach Urban Meyer called for a fake punt on fourth-and-6. Omarius Hines ran 36 yards to keep the drive alive, and John Brantley eventually connected with Frankie Hammond on a 7-yard touchdown pass.

"It was a big play; it was a good call by them," UT head coach Derek Dooley said. "Looking back, we should have been in safe punt. We were trying to make something happen a little bit. They made a good play and got us on that."

Jeremy Brown picked off a pass by Simms on third-and-6 at the Tennessee 40, which set up Gillislee's second touchdown that gave the Gators a 24-10 lead just before the end of the third quarter.

The Vols, who were hosting a second AP top 10 team in as many weeks, had found themselves in a similar situation a week earlier against Oregon and unraveled. They seemed on the verge of a meltdown again when Simms appeared to be sacked in the end zone for a safety, but an official review ruled him down on the 1. Tennessee punted but got the ball back when Dooley challenged a run by Jeff Demps, insisting the Florida track star had fumbled. The officials agreed, and the Vols answered with a 35-yard touchdown pass from Simms to true freshman Justin Hunter on fourth-and-6 to cut Florida's lead to 24-17 with a 11:24 left.

Dooley, who was facing the Gators for the first time as head coach, said that's the kind of reaction he expects from a team that hasn't done much to prove it can fight back from adversity.

"We should do that. I'm proud of them for that, but we should do that every game," Dooley said. "All that does is give you a chance, and it proved out." It also didn't last very long.

Florida responded with Trey Burton's 2-yard touchdown run that iced the Vols, who allowed two more big sacks on Simms and turned the ball over with a fumble by Tauren Poole. Poole, who entered the game leading the SEC in rushing, was held to 27 yards.

UT scored first for the first time against Florida since 2001 when Daniel Lincoln kicked a first-quarter 49-yard field goal, tying his career high. But the Vols had their own struggles. After recovering a fumbled punt return by Janoris Jenkins at the Florida 21, the Vols drove 18 yards but missed a chance to score when Jonathan Bostic picked off a pass by Simms in the end zone.

THE WRAPUP

- Linebacker Nick Reveiz (14) and safety Janzen Jackson (9) both turned in career highs in tackles. Reveiz also recovered a fumbled punt by the Gators.
- True freshman James Stone replaced the injured JerQuari Schofield on the offensive line during the second half. Stone joined Ja'Wuan James as the Vols' second true freshman on the offensive front.
- Tight end Luke Stocker matched his career high with five catches, finishing with 41 receiving yards.
- Florida's six consecutive wins are the most in the series since the Vols won the first 10 contests from 1916-53.
- Justin Hunter, another Vols true freshman, led UT with 60 receiving yards on three catches. Included was his first career touchdown, a 35-yard pass from Matt Simms that closed Tennessee to within 24-17 early in the fourth.

Simms-to-Moore toss lifts Vols past Blazers in double-overtime thriller

Tennessee made its last chance at victory count, and the Vols escaped with a 32-29 win over UAB in double overtime at Neyland Stadium.

Matt Simms threw the game-winner, a 25-yard touchdown to Denarius Moore on UT's first play of the second overtime. The score was a sudden end to a seesaw affair that saw the Blazers rally from a 16-point halftime deficit.

"He (Moore) was my first read on the play, came off the play action, the safety flat-footed there for a split second and that was all the time I needed to make my decision," Simms said. "I just tried to put it in a place where he could go up and get it and jump over the corner, and that is exactly what he did."

The Volunteers held a 23-7 lead at halftime thanks mainly to Moore's first touchdown, a 13-yard reception, and Zach Rogers' 72-yard catch and run. Both of those plays came in the first quarter and were followed by a Daniel Lincoln 47-yard field goal and Prentiss Waggner's second interception return for touchdown, this one from 9 yards just before the break.

But the Blazers staged their comeback as David Isabelle found Frantrell Forrest on a 27-yard touchdown strike in the third quarter, and ran for 6 yards for another score in the fourth. After each touchdown, Bryan Ellis hit Jeffery Anderson on a pair of two-point conversions.

Daniel Lincoln kicked a 40-yard field goal for Tennessee to open the first overtime, and UAB's Josh Zahn, who missed field goals from 41, 35, 49, 30 and 54 in regulation, connected on a 35-yard field goal to answer.

Ellis hit Pat Shed on a 14-yard pass to pick up a first down in the second overtime but his 7-yard pass to Patrick Hearn came up 4 yards short of the end zone, and Zahn scored on a 21-yard field goal to put UAB up 29-26 before the Vols' final touchdown.

The Blazers dominated the game in nearly every category. They picked up 544 yards compared to the Vols' 287 yards, had eight more first downs and converted seven more third down attempts.

Tennessee's defense couldn't stop UAB, who used Isabelle, the backup quarterback, to chip away yards with his runs and Ellis, the starter, to convert third-and-long situations.

Ellis completed 29 of 55 for 373 yards, a touchdown and an interception. Isabelle ran 16 times for 73 yards and completed 4 of 5 for 56 yards and a touchdown.

THE WRAPUP

- Tennessee improved to 9-2 in overtime, including a 5-0 mark at Neyland Stadium.
- Matt Simms' 72-yard touchdown pass to Zach Rogers was Tennessee's longest scoring pass play since Erik Ainge connected with Robert Meachem for an 84-yard TD at Memphis in 2006.
- Tennessee started the game 0-for-10 on third down conversions until David Oku's 1-yard run midway through the fourth quarter. The Vols finished the contest 2-of-15 on third down.
- The Vols finished 2-2 at home in September.

Still, the Vols seemed to be in control in the first half. The Vols went for it on fourth-and-1 at the UAB 15 on its first drive and got two yards on a quarterback sneak by Simms, who threw a 13-yard touchdown pass to Moore on the next play.

UAB had just tied the game at 7 when Simms answered with the 72-yarder to Rogers on the next play. It was Tennessee's longest play since an 87-yard touchdown run by LaMarcus Coker against Vanderbilt in 2006.

BATON ROUGE, La. -- LSU scored on the game's very first play and again on the very last play -- after Tennessee was penalized for too many men on the field. Those scores were enough to allow the Tigers to escape with a 16-14 decision that was beyond heartbreaking to the UT faithful.

The Tigers remained unbeaten after a Volunteers penalty for too many players on the field rescued LSU from what appeared to be a botched final play. LSU was confused on third-and-goal from the 1 and allowed the clock to run nearly to zero before a mishandled shotgun snap seemingly ended the game and sent Tennessee players streaming onto the field in jubilation.

The celebration was cut short when officials ruled the Vols had 13 defensive players on the field when the ball was snapped. Stevan Ridley then bulled into the end zone from less than a yard out for the wild finish.

"I don't know if I have ever had a loss like that," UT head coach Derek Dooley said. "They changed personnel and ran a bunch of guys on the field. It was a lot of chaos.

"Things happened fast and guys didn't run off the field. The ball was snapped pretty quickly, and so we lose the game. I have never hurt like this before."

Jordan Jefferson had an 83-yard TD run on LSU's first offensive play, but UT's defense limited the Tigers after that, forcing four turnovers including three interceptions. Tennessee played without a turnover for the second game in a row.

"Our guys fought and fought," Dooley said. "We played great on special teams, we got turnovers and every time things went bad we kept sticking with it. It was a great football game."

Tennessee was in the game the whole way despite playing in its first road contest of the season. Tauren Poole's 1-yard dive over the pile helped the Vols to a 7-7 tie at halftime. Matt Simms' 3-yard touchdown run put the Vols in the lead with 11:34 left in the fourth quarter.

The first interception of LaMarcus Thompson's career in the Vols' end zone put Tennessee in position to bury the Tigers in a hole with another score, but the Tigers' defense got a critical stop on fourth-and-1 at the LSU 31.

Poole topped 100 yards for the third time in 2010 with a 109-yard performance. Gerald Jones returned from a three-game absence after nursing a hand injury to lead the Vols with five receptions for 46 yards while helping UT convert a season-high seven third downs.

LSU sacked Simms five times for 41 yards in losses that added to the Tigers' total offensive margin of 434 to 217.

THE WRAPUP

- Tennessee was 3-of-5 on third-down conversion attempts in the first quarter after converting just two third-downs in each of the last two games. The Vols finished 7-of-15 for the afternoon.
- Luke Stocker started his 30th consecutive game.
- Matt Simms scored his first major college touchdown, a 3-yard run that gave Tennessee the lead 14-10 early in the fourth quarter.
- UT allowed two opposing ball-carriers to rush for 100 yards for the first time since UT's 1990 Cotton Bowl win over Arkansas.
- The Vols defense compiled 25 tackles by players from Louisiana -- Herman Lathers (10), Prentiss Waggner (8) and Janzen Jackson (7). Bayou State natives Dallas Thomas and Jarrod Shaw started on the offensive line.
- The Vols did not score first for the first time in 2010.
- For the first time all season (including overtime against UAB), Tennessee won the coin toss.

Bulldogs bite Vols early & often in 41-14 decision at Athens

ATHENS, Ga. -- Aaron Murray ran for two touchdowns and threw for two more scores as Georgia snapped a four-game losing streak and defeated Tennessee 41-14 in a tough homecoming for Volunteers coach Derek Dooley.

UT made this one easy on the Bulldogs, turning it over three times, giving up four sacks and falling behind 17-0 in the first quarter.

"We ran into a motivated team today," Dooley said of Georgia, which entered the game with a 1-4 record. "We got affected on the road and couldn't keep our composure. We are not going to win with those types of turnovers."

Murray was 17 of 25 for 266 yards passing and ran seven times for 41 yards. A.J. Green had six catches for 96 yards and a touchdown.

Then it was time for Tennessee to start making mistakes. Matt Simms lofted a pass that was deflected and picked off by Bacarri Rambo, who managed to get one foot down just before he flew through the bench area and actually leaped over the famous hedge that surrounds the field.

"That's what we expected Georgia to be like at the beginning of the season," Dooley said. "But I was disappointed in how we competed."

Tennessee's only bright spot in the first half came after Simms appeared to headed for yet another sack, but managed to slip away from two defenders and loft a 38-yard touchdown pass to Justin Hunter.

But any hope of the Vols rallying was snuffed out when Green hauled in a 22-yard touchdown pass down the middle that made it 24-7. Walsh added a 20-yard field goal for a 27-7 halftime lead.

Just about everything went Georgia's way. On the opening possession of the second half, Murray spun away from a would-be tackler in the backfield, took off running again to his left and managed to stick the ball over the goal line just before stepping out of bounds.

Hunter finished with four catches for 110 yards and the touchdown to highlight Tennessee offensive effort. He had receptions of 28 and 25 yards in addition to the touchdown play.

Herman Lathers was UT's defensive tackle leader with seven, while Janzen Jackson and Willie Bohannon added sacks. Limited by four Georgia sacks, Tennessee finished the game with just 9 rushing yards on 26 attempts.

THE WRAPUP

- Justin Hunter became the first Vols receiver with 100 yards in a game since Robert Meachem had 145 against Kentucky in 2004.
- Matt Simms' streak of pass attempts without an interception was snapped at 72.
- Rajion Neal's first career catch was a 58-yarder from Simms that led to Tauren Poole's third-quarter TD. Neal finished with two catches for 70 yards.
- True freshman quarterback Tyler Bray saw his first meaningful action, entering the game in the fourth quarter and completing 8 of 12 passes for 81 yards.
- Georgia controlled the clock for 34:33 to UT's 25:27.
- Chad Cunningham contributed a season-long punt of 55 yards in the second quarter.

Vols close at intermission, then undone by Tide's second-half surge

Trent Richardson's 65-yard touchdown run and 5-yard touchdown reception were part of 28 unanswered second-half points as No. 7 Alabama beat Tennessee 41-10 at Neyland Stadium.

The Vols seemed ready for another close game against the Crimson Tide, this time under first-year coach Derek Dooley, who was facing former boss Nick Saban. Dooley was part of Saban's coaching staff for seven seasons at LSU and the Miami Dolphins.

Alabama, which had won 21 straight over unranked opponents, came out of halftime with only a 13-10 lead after a sluggish first half. But the Tide wasted no time in the third quarter, getting three straight first downs on its opening drive before Mark Ingram pushed the ball 1 yard for the touchdown for a 20-10 lead.

The Vols attempted to pressure the Crimson Tide's running game by blitzing and pressuring quarterback Greg McElroy, but the effort wore down a team plagued by a lack of depth. McElroy completed 21 of 32 for 264 yards, mostly to receiver Julio Jones.

"We watched the film and the film says they throw it," Dooley said. "They threw for 326. We struggled to stop it."

Richardson and Ingram had just 91 yards rushing at halftime, but added 96 yards on the ground in the third quarter, including Richardson's touchdown and a pair of 1-yard scoring runs by Ingram. Richardson finished with 119 yards on 12 carries, and Ingram had 88 yards on 14 runs.

"We fought them pretty hard for 30 minutes and were scrapping and fighting," Dooley said. "The third quarter, obviously, was the difference."

For their part, the Volunteers had a few shots to keep the game competitive in the second half. Matt Simms led a long drive that eventually stalled at the Alabama 35 after three straight run plays, and Michael Palardy missed a 52-yard field goal attempt that could have cut the Crimson Tide's lead to a touchdown.

Simms drove the Vols the length of the field when they got the ball back after Richardson's touchdown, but Robert Lester stepped in front of a would-be touchdown pass to Gerald Jones and took the ball to the Vols 20. Simms finished 12 for 22 for 117 yards and an interception, but no touchdowns.

"I think Matt did some really good things," Dooley said. "He just had a couple of bad decisions."

Tennessee got the first score for the first time since the Vols' 17-13 win in 2004. Tauren Poole found a gaping hole in the line and ran 59 yards to the end zone with 8:44 left in the first quarter.

Poole finished with 117 yards on the ground, becoming the first player to rush for more than 100 yards against Alabama since Mississippi's BenJarvus Green-Ellis ran for 131 on Oct. 13, 2007.

Jones set an Alabama game record with 221 yards on 12 catches for the Crimson Tide, which got its fourth straight win over Tennessee for the first time since 1992.

THE WRAPUP

- Justin Hunter made his first career start at wide receiver, becoming the fifth true freshman and fourth position player to start for the Vols this season.
- Tauren Poole broke loose for a 59-yard touchdown in the first quarter that was the longest rush of his career.
- Freshman placekicker Michael Palardy scored his first career field goal on a 33-yarder to end the first half.
- Chad Cunningham averaged a season-best 48.2 yards per punt on six kicks.
- Nick Reveiz finished with 11 tackles to lead the Vols for the fifth time in seven games.
- The Vols were shut out in the second half for the third time this season.

COLUMBIA, S.C. -- Alshon Jeffery hauled in a 70-yard touchdown catch to help South Carolina escape a Tennessee comeback and remain in control of the SEC East.

Jeffery caught a routine pass over the middle with the game tied at 24-all, moved toward the right sideline and outran several Vols defenders to for a critical TD in the Gamecocks 38-24 victory.

"The worst that should have come from that play was a first down for 12 yards, but that's what great players do," UT head coach Derek Dooley said. "That's what impact, game-changing players do. If you look at the fourth quarter, who took over? Nos. 1 and 21, and that's what great players do."

Jeffery, who wears the No. 1 jersey, was joined by freshman tailback Marcus Lattimore, who wears 21, as the offensive stars for the Gamecocks. Jeffery finished with 3 catches for 87 yards and his winning TD reception, while Lattimore rushed 29 times for a career-high 184 yards and another score.

To spark the comeback, Tennessee pulled off its first successful fake punt since 2004 when Chad Cunningham ran for 25 yards on fourth-and-10. On the next play, Bray connected with Denarius Moore on a 30-yard scoring pass to pull within a touchdown.

Bray and Moore were at it again on Tennessee's next series. The two combined for a 64-yard reception to the Gamecocks 2 and, after a personal foul penalty pushed the Vols back, Bray hit Gerald Jones for a 17-yard touchdown to tie it up at 24-all.

"I came back in the second half and said, 'Hey guys, lets go' and started throwing it to the playmakers," said Bray, who also threw an interception that defensive end Devin Taylor returned 24 yards for a touchdown.

The teams were tied 10-10 at halftime when UT turned the ball over twice early in the third quarter. South Carolina capitalized both times with easy touchdowns to take its 24-10 advantage.

"It is impossible to have a worse start in the third quarter," Dooley said. "But to the team's credit, they showed a little resolve and tied the score.

"At the end of the day, mistakes were the difference. You're not going to beat a team that is going to the Georgia Dome when you spit it up four times and give up six sacks."

Wide receiver Da'Rick Rogers led the Tennessee rushing attack with 49 yards on five carries around end. Bray finished 9-of-15 for 159 yards and the two scores in relief of Matt Simms.

THE WRAPUP

- Herman Lathers and LaMarcus Thompson tied for UT's tackle honors with seven apiece. Lathers added a sack, another tackle for loss and a QB hurry.
- Nick Reveiz intercepted the first pass of his career to thwart a South Carolina scoring chance on the game's opening drive.
- Four of Gerald Jones' six receptions converted third downs and kept Tennessee drives alive.
- Quarterback Matt Simms opened the game 6-of-6 for 119 yards.
- Denarius Moore's 228 receiving yards were second in the UT history books to Kelley Washington's 256 against LSU in 2001.

MEMPHIS -- Freshman quarterback Tyler Bray, starting his first game for Tennessee, threw for 325 yards and five touchdowns to lead the Volunteers to a 50-14 victory over Memphis.

The victory snapped a four-game October losing streak for Tennessee, which was never threatened after the first quarter. Bray, who took over the helm one week earlier in relief of junior Matt Simms, picked apart the young Memphis secondary from the start.

"It was obviously a great first half by the team," UT head coach Derek Dooley said. "We outmatched them, and we did what we should do. It's been awhile since we got a win, so it was a nicer scene in the locker room."

The Vols would end the night with 510 yards of offense, including 379 through the air. Memphis actually scored first, but Tennessee's 50 consecutive points matched UT's largest scoring output of the season.

The bulk of Bray's statistics came in the first half as he completed 17 of 28 passes for 308 yards and all five of his touchdown passes.

"He played well, obviously," Dooley said. "But we outmatched them on the perimeter. Let's not get too excited is what I'm saying. He did what he should have done -- throw and catch."

Tennessee already had 398 yards of offense at the break. Bray was spreading out the scoring passes, hitting Poole and Justin Hunter (42 yards) for touchdowns in the first quarter.

The second quarter scoring passes were to Denarius More (14 yards), Da'Rick Rogers (22 yards) and Gerald Jones (9 yards). Michael Palardy added field goals of 24 and 32 yards for Tennessee, which scored on every possession. except its first, in the half.

The Vols held the Tigers to 117 yards of offense, including only 8 yards rushing in the opening 30 minutes. Memphis finished the game with 308 yards of total offense.

Midway through the third quarter, Simms replaced Bray and was 3 of 5 for 54 yards.

Defensive tackle Malik Jackson led Tennessee's defensive effort with a team-high and career best eight tackles, including two sacks and another for lost yardage. The junior also intercepted his first career pass and returned it 44 yards to set up Poole's rushing TD.

THE WRAPUP

- Tennessee forced five turnovers for the first time in a game since a 63-20 win over Arkansas in 2000.
- UT didn't allow a sack for the first time all season.
- Bray's five first-half touchdowns are believed to be a UT record for scoring tosses in the opening 30 minutes.
- Denarius Moore (103) and Tauren Poole (101) became the 43rd WR/TB duo in UT history to top 100 yards in the same game.
- Governor-elect Bill Haslam tossed the coin prior to kickoff.

Tyler Bray threw three touchdown passes, two of them to Justin Hunter, and Tennessee returned two pass interceptions for touchdowns to capture its first Southeastern Conference win of the season with a 52-14 victory over Mississippi.

It also was Derek Dooley's first SEC win as Tennessee's coach and first streak of two wins. The Vols have never gone a season without an SEC victory and have won at least three conference games every season since 1977.

"It was just a phenomenal effort by our players," Dooley said. "We were focused. We had our best week of practice and it just showed."

On Tennessee's first play from scrimmage, Bray attempted a pass to Gerald Jones that was tipped by Mississippi's Jonathan Cornell right into the hands of Justin Hunter. Hunter had 80 yards of green space and took it all the way to the end zone.

The Vols were in control the whole game, thanks to Bray's passing. Tennessee had only seven yards on the ground in the first half but countered it with 265 yards by air.

By the end of the game, Tennessee had outgained Ole Miss 441 yards to 295 on offense.

Bray finished 18-of-34 with 323 yards. In two games as the starter, Bray has completed 37-of-67 for 648 yards and eight touchdowns without turning the ball over.

Hunter had 114 yards on three catches and Poole had 107 yards on 12 carries.

Ole Miss couldn't get its offense going with Masoli being pressured by the Vols' defensive line all day. The Rebels entered having given up only seven sacks in eight games, but UT took Masoli down twice and sacked backup Nathan Stanley once.

Tennessee took a 21-0 lead with 2:33 left in the first quarter when Eric Gordon picked off a pass by Masoli at the Rebels 46 and ran it back for a touchdown. Prentiss Waggner returned another Masoli interception for a score, his third touchdown on an interception return this season, setting a UT record.

"It's a big honor," Waggner said. "I really didn't know about the record until you guys told me. I think it's all because of the grace of God that I got that interception and got it into the end zone."

THE WRAPUP

- Tennessee 52 points were the most scored by the Vols in a regulation SEC game since 2003.
- The Bray-to-Hunter TD was Tennessee's first touchdown on the opening play from scrimmage since Erik Ainge connected with Arian Foster to begin the 2007 contest at Kentucky.
- The interception returns for touchdowns by Eric Gordon and Prentiss Waggner were the third and fourth for UT this season.
- Returning from a five-game injury absence, Daniel Lincoln kicked a 43-yard field goal that was his eighth consecutive made field goal to begin the season, tying his own school record.

Masoli finished 7-of-18 for 80 yards, with three interceptions and no touchdowns. And the quarterback known for his scrambling abilities had even less success on the ground, with 22 yards rushing.

Mississippi entered the game with a ground game that ranked second in the SEC and 13th in the nation, and the Rebels tailbacks did their best to make up for Masoli's struggles. Brandon Bolden ran for 113 yards and scored on touchdown runs of 17 yards and 2 yards for the Rebels' only scores.

Vols struggle but clip Commodores behind defensive effort, late TD run

NASHVILLE -- Tauren Poole rushed for 99 yards and the game-clinching touchdown and Tennessee kept its bowl hopes alive with a 24-10 win over Vanderbilt.

The Commodores threatened with a late touchdown, but Tennessee sent Vanderbilt to its sixth straight loss when Poole took advantage of a failed onside kick to rip off a 28-yard touchdown run with 1:11 remaining.

"I knew it'd be tough," UT head coach Derek Dooley said. "We had opportunities to put the game away and didn't capitalize. Tyler [Bray] struggled with decision-making and you have to give Vanderbilt a lot of credit for that."

Tennessee won its third straight game for the first time since 2007.

Bray threw for 232 yards but struggled with two interceptions, his first real adversity since taking over as starter three weeks ago. That didn't stop the Volunteers from beating the Commodores for the fifth straight time and 27th of 28 in the series.

"With all of the mistakes, we still held them to 10 points and found a way to win," Dooley said. "That's all that matters."

Bray got off to a fast start, completing nine of his first 10 passes to give the Vols a 14-0 lead midway through the second quarter. He threw a 15-yard touchdown pass to Justin Hunter in the first quarter and a 20-yard scoring pass to Denarius Moore midway in the second.

But Bray killed Tennessee's next two drives with interceptions, and then had trouble connecting with his receivers the rest of the way, finishing 16-of-27.

"Second half, they made a great adjustment and had a lot of movement with their defensive line and linebackers," said Gerald Jones, who caught six passes for 80 yards. "It made it hard for our offensive linemen, but our defense stepped up for us."

UT defensive tackle Gerald Williams was in on several big plays. The senior had eight tackles, including a sack, and also blocked a Commodores field goal try.

Vanderbilt quarterbacks threw two interceptions and were 20-of-41, continuing a season-long trend of completing less than 50 percent of their passes. Starter Larry Smith was pulled late in the game for Funk after completing just 11-of-27 passes for 76 yards.

Herman Lathers was Tennessee's tackle leader for the third time this season, finishing with 10, while Nick Reveiz added nine. Prentiss Waggner and Janzen Jackson each notched their fourth inteceptions of the year, with Jackson's halting a Vanderbilt drive at the goal line.

THE WRAPUP

- Tennessee held the lead after the first quarter for the ninth time in 11 games this season. The only other results were a 7-7 tie at LSU and a 17-0 deficit at Georgia.
- The Vols recorded multiple interceptions in a third consecutive game for the first time since 2007.
- Daniel Lincoln connected on his ninth consecutive field goal to start the season, breaking his own record of eight set in 2007.
- Tyler Bray's streak of 96 consecutive passes without an interception was snapped in the second quarter.
- Freshman Da'Rick Rogers registered career bests with three receptions for 59 yards, including a career-long catch of 27 yards.
- Gerald Williams' blocked field goal was Tennessee's first since Dan Williams turned the trick in the second overtime of the Vols' memorable 2007 win at Kentucky.
- Tauren Poole missed by one his seventh 100-yard game.

Vols extend streak to 26 over Wildcats, earn bowl trip after flawless month

Tyler Bray threw for 354 yards and two touchdowns as Tennessee extended its winning streak over Kentucky to 26 straight games to become bowl eligible with a 24-14 victory at Neyland Stadium.

After losing four games in October, the Vols were perfect in their four November games. They also upheld the longest active streak in a series between two major college teams, one that's survived 10 coaches on the two squads and is older than any player on either side's roster.

"It's hard to describe how proud I am of this football team," UT head coach Derek Dooley said. "Sitting there at 2-6 and people are talking about us being the worst football team in Tennessee history, and nobody in this organization flinched. I'm real proud of that."

Denarius Moore caught one of Bray's touchdown passes and had 205 yards receiving to become the only Vols receiver in history to have more than 200 yards receiving in two games in either a season or career. Moore had 228 yards in an Oct. 30 loss to South Carolina.

Kentucky tied the game at 14 with 10:10 left in the third quarter when Mike Hartline hit Tyler Robinson on a 2-yard touchdown pass on fourth-and-1. The Wildcats got the ball back on the next drive when Bray threw one of his two interceptions in the game to Mychal Bailey in the Kentucky end zone.

They couldn't capitalize, and Tennessee drove 73 yards and got a 2-yard touchdown run by Tauren Poole on its ensuing drive to take the lead. Daniel Lincoln kicked a 36-yard field goal with 9:19 in the fourth quarter to pad the margin.

Hartline struggled to connect with his receivers late but finished 31-of-44 for 272 yards, the touchdown and an interception. Randall Cobb had 13 catches for 116 yards but did not score a touchdown for the first game all season. Derrick Locke ran 24 times for 97 yards, but only eight of those yards came after halftime.

Kentucky appeared poised to take a 14-point lead late in the first quarter after putting together a 16-play, 78-yard drive. But Locke fumbled at the Vols 1 and Tennessee's Nick Reveiz recovered in the end zone.

"That ball just squirted out right in front of me," Reveiz said. "All I know is that when I saw that ball, I was getting it. No one else was getting it."

THE WRAPUP

- Kentucky native Luke Stocker kept his streak alive as the only Vol with a reception in every game this season. Stocker finished with 5 catches for 55 yards.
- Michael Palardy rushed 16 yards with Tennessee's second successful fake punt this year.
- Marsalis Teague and Janzen Jackson both set career bests for tackles to lead the Vols with 11 apiece.
- Tyler Bray completed 20 of 38 passes for 354 yards -- all career highs -- and was named SEC Freshman of the Week for the third time in November.
- Denarius Moore made all seven of his catches for 205 yards and a TD in the second and third quarters.
- The Vols finished the regular season with 17 interceptions, tied for second best in the SEC and tied for ninth nationally.
- Tennessee averaged 99,781 fans for seven home games at Neyland Stadium.

After Reveiz' recovery, Bray completed four passes, including a 44-yard pass to Moore and an 11-yard touchdown toss to Gerald Jones to tie the game at 7 with 13:53 in the second quarter.

Kentucky only picked up one first down on the next drive before it was forced to punt. Tennessee had only two plays on the next drive, a 49-yard pass from Bray to Moore and a 12-yard touchdown toss between the pair to give the Vols a 14-7 lead with 10:50 in the second quarter.

NASHVILLE -- Casey Barth kicked a 23-yard field goal in the second overtime to send North Carolina past Tennessee 30-27 in a Music City Bowl that will be remembered much more for the crazy finish of regulation than how it eventually ended.

The finish to regulation, with what looked like a win turning into a double-overtime loss, was eerily similar to Tennessee's loss at LSU nearly three months earlier. Both times, a do-over of the game's final play turned the decision.

Barth kicked a 39-yard field goal after officials reviewed what had been the final play of the game and decided to penalize the Tar Heels for having "more than 11 men" on the field. The officiating crew also announced T.J. Yates had spiked the ball with 1 second left.

Tennessee was stunned at the sudden switch that cost the Vols an apparent bowl victory to cap Derek Dooley's first season. Tyler Bray threw a 25-yard TD in the first overtime, but he was picked off to end the Vols' last chance in the second OT.

The Vols lost to LSU on Oct. 2 when they got caught having too many defenders, giving the Tigers another chance to pull out a 16-14 win.

"It was chaos again," Dooley said.

This will hurt much more. Tennessee had the home-field advantage with LP Field painted orange from top to bottom, and the Vols' fans had been celebrating ever since Bray's 8-yard TD pass to Justin Hunter put them up 20-17 with 5:16 left.

But Donte Paige-Moss blocked Daniel Lincoln's extra point, and that provided the edge North Carolina needed to force overtime.

Tennessee had a chance to clinch the victory when the Vols got the ball back with 1:36 left, but punted it back to North Carolina with 31 seconds remaining to set up the bizarre finish.

Everyone was on the field after the clock appeared to run out when North Carolina got caught -- and flagged -- with too many men on the field. A handful of Tar Heels were running toward the sideline when T.J. Yates snapped the ball with the holder behind him as if preparing for a field-goal attempt.

The Vols started celebrating with the Tar Heels dejected. Officials suddenly announced that the end was under review. They announced the replay showed North Carolina had "more than 11" players on the field for a 5-yard penalty. But they said Yates had spiked the ball with 1 second remaining.

Gerald Jones ended his UT career with a career-high nine catches for 89 yards and UT's first score of the game. Fellow senior Denarius Moore added four receptions for 68 yards.

THE WRAPUP

- The game's attendance of 69,143 was a Music City Bowl record.
- Tyler Bray's 45 pass attempts were the second most in Tennessee bowl history (Casey Clausen 55, 2004).
- Tauren Poole rushed for 40 yards to finish the season as UT's 16th 1,000-yard rusher (1,034).
- Linebacker Nick Reveiz led all tacklers with 14, and led all Tennessee players with 108 for the season.
- Luke Stocker caught five passes for 58 yards and a touchdown. Stocker was the only Vol with at least one catch in all 13 games this year.

SCHOOL COLORS

The colors Orange and White were selected by Charles Moore, a member of the first football team in 1891, and later were approved by a vote of the student body. The colors were those of the common American Daisy, which grew in profusion on The Hill. Tennessee players did not appear in the now-famous orange jerseys until the season-opening game in 1922. Coach M.B. Banks' Vols won that game over Emory & Henry by a score of 50-0.

NICKNAME

The University of Tennessee, as the state's land grant university, draws the nickname of its athletic teams (Volunteers) from the name most associated with the state. Tennessee acquired its name, "The Volunteer State," in the early days of the 19th century when Gen. Andrew Jackson mustered large armies from his home state to fight the American Indians, and later the British at the Battle of New Orleans during the War of 1812.

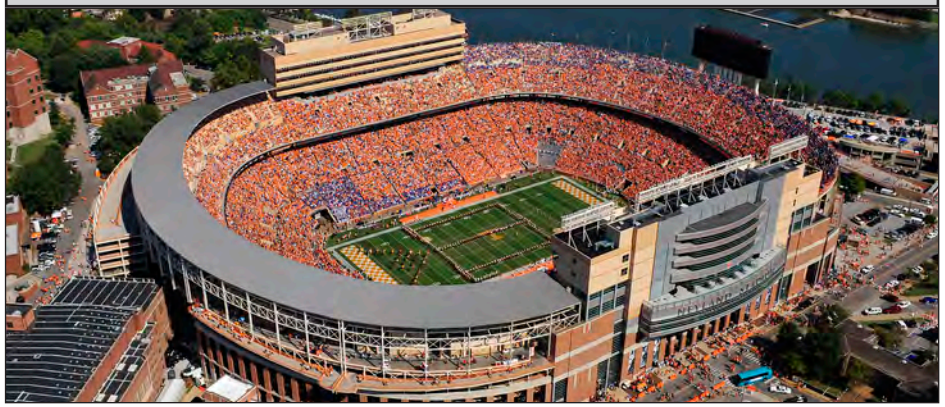
MASCOT

The Vols' mascot is a blue tick coon hound named Smokey. The latest in the line -- Smokey IX -- will be faithfully patrolling the sidelines again this year for Tennessee. The current Volunteers mascot comes from a line of native Tennessee-bred blue tick coon hounds that has been on the job since 1953 and been provided by the family of the late Rev. W.C. Brooks of Knoxville. The mascot Smokey was chosen as a result of a Pep Club contest held that year to select a mascot.

NEYLAND STADIUM/SHIELDS-WATKINS FIELD



The present-day Neyland Stadium/Shields-Watkins Field had its beginning in 1919. Col. W.S. Shields, president of Knoxville's City National Bank and a UT trustee, provided the initial capital to prepare and equip an athletic field. Thus, when the field was completed in March 1921, it was called Shields-Watkins Field in honor of the donor and his wife, Alice Watkins-Shields.

The stadium, apart from the field it grew to enclose, came to bear its own distinguished name: Neyland Stadium. It was named in 1962 for the man most responsible for the growth and development of UT's football program, Gen. Robert R. Neyland. Neyland served as head coach from 1926-1952, with two interruptions for military service. After retiring from the coaching ranks, Neyland was athletic director until his death in 1962. He was the guiding force behind additions to the stadium's capacity and is the one most responsible for the winning tradition that Volunteer fans have come to expect over the years.

In the summer before the 1994 season, natural grass replaced the artificial turf as the surface of Neyland Stadium for the first time since 1968. A 1996 expansion to the North end upper deck pushed capacity above 100,000. The 2000 addition of the east side skyboxes raised the figure to 104,079 before phased renovations for club and terrace seating improvements dropped current capacity to 102,455 -- still the fourth-largest stadium in college football.

HEAD COACH DEREK DOOLEY

Derek Dooley, 42, came to UT after three seasons as head coach at Louisiana Tech, where he also served as athletics director since March 2008. He was the only athletics director serving as head football coach on the BCS level.

Dooley is the youngest son of Georgia legend Vince Dooley, who coached the Bulldogs for 25 seasons and claimed six league crowns and the 1980 national title.

In Dooley's first season at the Tennessee helm, the Vols finished 6-7, winning all four games in November and playing North Carolina in the Music City Bowl.

The bright future on the horizon for UT football was exemplified by performances from the talented freshman class. Tennessee played 26 freshmen in 2010, including 16 true freshmen, both the third-highest totals in major college football.

Dooley was named to his first head coaching position by Louisiana Tech in December 2006. Included in his 17-20 overall record was an 8-5 mark in 2008 highlighted by the school's first postseason victory in 30 years at the Independence Bowl.

Dooley is married to Dr. Allison Jeffers Dooley, an OB/GYN and Fort Worth, Texas, native. They have two sons, John Taylor (12) and Peyton (9), and a daughter, Julianna (7). Allison is active in fundraising for the Susan G. Komen Foundation for breast cancer research.
